AN AWFUL DEATH

Soston Lineman Electrocuted Trimming Lights.

THE ATTEMPTED RESCUER ALSO KILLED BY FALL.

Thousands of People Witnessed the Frightful Sight.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—A horrible electrocution occurred this morning, and the victim was a light trimmer employed by the Boston Electric Light company.

Charles E. Day was on a pole at Congress street trimming the lamp, and passers by heard a faint groan.

He was seen to be helpless and from his eyes, nose and mouth issued a blue flame. His body stiffened and then grew limp.

Word was sent to the emergency hospital and an ambulance came. Meanwhile two men had tried to climb the pole and were shocked; one young man got hold of Day and was thrown 30 feet to the ground and badly hurt.

One of the ambulance men named Munroe went up the pole and was thrown down suffering a fractured skull. He died before reaching the hospital.

After great exertions Day's body was lowered and taken to the police morgue. J. J. McCarthy, a lineman, also got a shock and, falling, was frightfully hurt.

A dead wire coming in contact with the light wire was the cause. Warnings have been sent out to all linemen to use extra precautions.

LOCAL NOTES.

Miss Abbie M. Smith calls special attention to some exquisite designs in millinery. Seed ad. in this paper.

Miss J. F. Kenney's opening of fall and winter millinery will take place Friday and Saturday of this week at 125 Merrimack street.

The Independent club of Ward Six held a meeting last evening and discussed the present political situation. The club as yet has not endorsed any particular candidate.

Friday and Saturday of this week will be the opening days at Courville & Tarte's millinery and dressmaking parlors, 131 East Merrimack street. A cordial invitation is extended.

Miss Sarah H. Cahill cordially invites the public to the opening of her branch millinery store in Corbett's new block on Gorham street. The opening will be held tomorrow and Saturday. The store will be managed by Miss Delia Renaud.

The millinery stores have undergone great changes in two days preparatory to the openings so successfully inaugurated today. The work rooms of millinery stores near Kirk street looked like dressing rooms of a theatre, the naked wax figures having quite realistic yet ghastly appearances.

The Distress of Nations.

At last evening's meeting of the Seventh Day Adventists at Odd Fellows' hall, Merrimack street, Elder H. J. Faunan discussed the subject, "Labor against capital, Distress of Nations; What do these things mean?"

Jews Celebrated and Lost Their Jobs.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 4.—Eight Jews employed in Chick Brothers' shoe factory spent Monday and Tuesday celebrating the Jewish New Year. They were told by the firm that work was pressing, and that if they remained out they would be dismissed. Yesterday morning they appeared at the factory and refused to leave. The police were called, when the men concluded to leave peacefully.

Complete Returns From Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Oct. 4.—Complete returns from the 161 towns in the state that elected town officers Monday have been received. The Republicans have gained 32 towns over 1893, and the Democrats have lost 18, four towns of the Republican gain coming from the so-called "divided" towns. Five more towns vote no license this year than last. The women's vote has fallen off 700, from about 3700 to 3000.

A Smart Little Girl.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., Oct. 4.—Yesterday was the third birthday of Ruth Cleveland. There was quite a gathering of her little acquaintances. As the weather was rainy, Ruth entertained her friends indoors, and for the time they had almost complete control of Gray Gables. Ruth is enjoying splendid health. Not only does she speak English readily, but she converses in German, as well.

DELEGATES HERE

SPEAKERS ARE MOST PROMINENT IN THE EAST.

They Represent Hundreds of Evangelical Sunday Schools.

The big Sunday school convention in the First Congregational church, which opened for business yesterday, has brought fully 500 delegates from out of town, all parts of the country east of the Alleghanies being represented.

Prominent among the number are some of the best known Sunday school workers, both clergy and laity, and the services and exercises are of special value, help and significance.

As to the local interest it was evidenced by an attendance of over 1000 persons yesterday, nearly half this number being at the evening service.

The actual sessions opened yesterday morning by an address of welcome by Rev. G. F. Kenngott, the pastor, and a response by President Pickles of the Interdenominational Sunday school body.

The secretary, J. N. Dummer, then presented his report which showed a gain of 15,334 members during the year making a total membership of 312,336 in 1821 evangelical sunday schools.

Committees were appointed as follows: Nominating committee, W. L. Floyd, J. M. Pearson, Rev. George F. Kenngott, Rev. C. H. Watson, H. V. Upham; resolutions, Rev. J. N. Dutton, Rev. W. H. Harris, Rev. E. T. Curnick; enrollment, J. N. Dummer, A. S. Cutler, W. E. French; finance, Rev. F. A. Warfield, T. A. McMaster.

Miss Bertha F. Vella of Boston told of the work done in the primary department, and said there are now 15 primary unions.

Reports were received from various districts; and all showed a very encouraging state of affairs.

It was voted to hold the next annual convention in Fall River. Rev. Everett D. Burr of the Ruggles street church, Boston delivered a very learned address which was received with applause.

In the afternoon the session opened with praise service by Prof. Towner. Rev. Mr. Clark offered prayer, after which the report of the nominating committee was asked for. The committee presented the name of Rev. R. G. Seymour of this city, for president, and he was unanimously elected.

He thanked the convention for honoring him, and said the work of the Sunday school must be kept up, as its prime object is the salvation of human souls.

The working of the home class department was explained by J. N. Dummer.

Rev. Dr. Mudge then offered prayer for the success of the work.

William N. Hartshorn chairman of the executive committee took "The Field and the Work" for his subject and delivered a very instructive address. At the conclusion of the address a reception was held followed by supper which was served in the vestry.

The evening service commenced sharply at 7.30. Prof. Towner directed the song service, which lasted about half an hour. Dr. A. A. Schauffler of Chicago spoke on "the teachers' four best things," which he said were the material, the tools, the best aim in view and the co-worker.

Pres. Seymour and Rev. G. F. Kenngott made a plea for funds and a collection was taken to help defray the expense of the association.

E. F. Jacobs, chairman of the international executive committee delivered a practical address on aggressive Sunday school work.

This was the closing address and with it Mr. Jacobs tendered to the convention the greeting of the New Hampshire convention, which is being held in Lebanon, and which Mr. Jacobs had attended during the day.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis P. Eaton of Redington, Me., are visiting in Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Munn Andrews have taken up their residence on East Merrimack street.

Mr. C. E. Adams gave a song recital at his studio in the Glidden block, to a select party of friends last evening.

Horton H. Hilton of this city and Miss Myrtle E. Pope of Milford, N. H., were married Wednesday by Rev. H. Lockhart.

Miss Nellie Coburn, daughter of the late Jefferson Coburn of this city, is engaged in missionary work among the poor in London.

The engagement of Mr. Charles H. Abbot and Mrs. Addie Moulton, both of San Francisco, is announced. Both are well known here.

Anthony Lavery, the well known Broadway baker, has gone with a party of friends to see the sights of N.Y. city. He will take a trip up the Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. Cumnock and the Misses Cumnock left yesterday for Pittsfield to attend the wedding of Miss Cutting and Mr. A. J. Cumnock, on Saturday.

Cards have been issued for the wedding of Miss Mabel H. Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solon W. Stevens, and Mr. Lewis H. Swift, at St. Anne's church, Oct. 17th.

Mr. Frank Townley Watson of Norwood and Miss Isabella Bruce Parker of this city were married in the presence of a few friends at noon Tuesday, October 2, in St. John's church by the rector, Rev. L. C. Manchester. They will reside at Norwood.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Shepard and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sherburne recently made a bicycle trip from Barre, Vt., to this city, then to Boston, Springfield and New York, where they made a tour of Central park, and back home again. While in Lowell they were the guests of Mrs. L. L. Greene.

An Error In Figures.

There is an error in the statement that $23,000 had been appropriated for the Princeton street highway and only $2,000 for the extension of the boulevard. The correct figures are expected to be sent this week.

Y. M. C. I.

A full attendance of the members of the Y. M. C. I. is requested for this evening as matters of importance are to come before the body.

Per order,
WILLIAM COGGER, Secretary.

WILL ACCEPT NOMINATION.

HON. JOHN E. RUSSELL FINALLY CONSENTS TO RUN

As a Candidate for Governor on Democratic Ticket—Much Against His Will He is Called Again to the Post of Party Duty.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—The conference of Democratic leaders was held at the Parker House last night. Chairman Corcoran presided. After the conference was opened, John E. Russell, "the Shepherd of Leicester," announced that he was not in the best of trim, and that he ought not to be urged to run again. He thought that some younger man, one capable of making a more vigorous campaign than he, should be nominated. The situation was then discussed pretty fully, and with the result that Mr. Russell finally gave his consent to allow the use of his name.

JOHN E. RUSSELL.

Henry Hurlburt of Lynn has been practically decided upon for attorney general and Charles C. Spelman of Springfield for secretary of state.

To a large number of newspaper men, who were anxious to hear the result of the conference, Mr. Russell simply stated that, in the event of a call for him in the convention, he had decided to waive his personal feelings and to again accept the nomination if it should be tendered him by the convention.

An Organizer Charged With Fraud.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Judge Lacombe has made an order for the appointment of a temporary receiver for the affairs of the Colorado River Irrigation company. In the bill of complaint, it was charged that John C. Beatty organized the company for his own selfish ends, and to secure the sale of $7,500,000 of a worthless tract of land in Mexico, to which he did not have even a claim.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral of the late Charlotte Tighe took place this morning from St. Michael's church. A large congregation was present. The high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Gilday. The choir rendered Schmidt's requiem mass. Several beautiful floral offerings were placed on the casket. The bearers were Messrs. M. Quinn, Lawrence Kelly, John Ryan, Robert Tweed, John McKeon and Frank Varley. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, where the committal service was conducted by the celebrant of the mass.

Josephine Conda, aged 30 years, died last evening at her home on Chelmsford street. The funeral took place from O'Donnell's warerooms this afternoon and interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

Annie Michel, infant child of Charles and Annie Michel, died this morning at their home, 294 Middlesex street. The funeral occurred this afternoon and the remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Ellen Watson took place this afternoon from her late home on Adams street and was largely attended. Interment in the Catholic cemetery, where services were conducted by Rev. Fr. Leonard.

Grand Semi-annual Opening.

According to their annual custom, Miss Head and Mrs. Shaw, milliners, at 169 Merrimack street, will devote three days to their opening in order that the ladies may become familiar with the prevailing styles in millinery for the fall and winter. Today, tomorrow and Saturday they will display for inspection their fine line of hats and bonnets. The reputation of this firm for doing fine work is so well established that comment would be superfluous. Their ability to do excellent work is shown by the fact that their business has been steadily increasing while other dealers have been crying "hard times." Their success is due to low prices and the satisfaction they give their customers. Call today and see their display. The store is tastefully decorated with potted plants and ferns. If you have any regard for your pocketbook you will leave your order with Head & Shaw, 169 Merrimack street.

Benevolent Society Officers.

The Ladies Benevolent society of the Highland M. E. church has elected these officers: Pres., Mrs. Dodge; vice presidents, Mrs. Short and Mrs. Hill; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Livingstone; solicitors, Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Maguire; directors, Mrs. Mudge, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Duren, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Hodge, Mrs. Varnum, Mrs. Waugh, Mrs. Lombard, Mrs. Falls, Mrs. Maguire, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Murkland, Mrs. Brierley.

Religious Inspiration of Cyclonic Speech

Rev. J. H. Weber, the "cyclone preacher" commenced his work in this city last evening and a large congregation was present in St. Paul's church. The meeting was directed by Rev. F. K. Stratton and after the singing of the doxology the scripture was read.

Mr. Weber was then introduced and delivered a stirring address. He claims to be a reaper rather than a preacher and his faith reaches out for a great harvest.

Worked an Old Dodge.

A swindler claiming to be with the Palmer Manufacturing company has been here. His game is to solicit lady agents for a face powder which he carries. He left a lot of stuff with one lady and obtained $10 as advance money, saying he would call again and replenish the stock. He hasn't called and the powder is worthless.

They Looked for Trouble.

The United States officers connected with the treasury special service were in the city Tuesday investigating the manner in which the liquor business is being conducted here. Deputy Collector Carter accompanied them in their inspection. In the afternoon they inspected the Consumers' brewery.

HAPPY BRIDES

They Were Claimed in Marriage by Manly Grooms.

Events of Last Night Which Claimed Society's Attention.

The society event of last evening, was the church wedding of two well known, well liked young society people of the Highlands, and as a matter of course the list of invitations sent out included all the prominent people of the city and many guests from abroad.

The bride was Miss Alice Gates White, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gideon F. White of Gates street, and the groom Mr. John Milton Washburn of Lowell, who is in business in Boston. The ceremony was performed in the Eliot church with the Rev. Dr. J. M. Greene as officiating clergyman. Precisely at six o'clock the bridal party entered the audience room, from the vestibule on the left, to the strains of Lohengrin and proceeded up the aisle, the bride, who came in on her father's arm being proceeded by the ushers Mr. Royal W. Gates, Mr. Henry Kittredge Gates, Mr. Louis H. Swift, Dr. George R. Jennison, and Mr. F. W. Norton of Nashua, N. H., Mr. H. U. True of Boston and Mr. Joseph E. Gates of Bedford, Mass. Then came little Miss Margaret Smith, as maid in waiting, and Miss Harriet A. White, maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Almira M. Whitted, Miss Blanche Cadwell and Miss Dola Wallace of Nashua, N. H., Miss Marcella Whiteside, Miss Mabel H. Stevens of Lowell.

At the altar, the groom accompanied by Mr. George H. Sargent of Andover, formerly of this city, met the party, and standing before the beloved pastor took part in the responsive marriage ceremony, and during which Handel's Largo was played on the organ. The scene at the altar was a beautiful one, for the bride was richly gowned in cream duchess satin, trimmed with duchess lace, wore the conventional veil, and carried bride's roses, while the bridesmaids on her left wore beautiful gowns of delicate shades. After the prayer and benediction, the bridal party left the room to the merry peal of Mendelssohn's march. The ushers then conducted the immediate relatives to their carriages, the other guests remaining seated in the pews which were tied with twined laurel.

The altar and platform were banked with clematis, ferns, holly and foliage plants of dark green, making a beautiful back ground for the more beautiful subject. The choir rail was also screened with foliage.

The newly married couple were driven to the bride's home where a family reception was held during the evening. Here the arrangements were in keeping with the elaborate church ceremony.

Among the out of town guests were: Lieut. Patch of the U.S.N.; Mr. and Mrs. Solon W. Whitted of Nashua, N. H.; Mr. and Mr. C. A. Robey of Nashua, N. H.; Miss Kathleen Robey. Miss Marion Robey of Nashua, and Mr. E. F. Quinlan of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Washburn will be at home at 11 Belmont street, on Thursdays in December.

Richards—Pettengill.

A charming home wedding was that at the bride's home on Mount Hope street, in Pawtucketville, last evening, when Miss Evelyn Pettengill became the bride of Mr. William C. Richards. Rev. G. F. Kenngott officiated standing in an alcove while the bridal party stood under a canopy of white lace, asparagus and evergreen. The bride looked as sweet as all brides do on such auspicious occasions, and she was gowned in white silk, with satin ribbons, and carried bridal roses and maiden hair ferns. Miss Lenora Pettengill, the bride's sister, and Miss Nellie Richards, the groom's sister, were the bridesmaids, and their gowns were of white silk, and they had bouquets of Jacqueminot roses.

The ushers were Robert S. Fulton and H. F. Hamilton of Newport, Vt. When the bridal party entered the parlor, Miss Alice Seeton played the Swedish wedding march, and during the ceremony the "Flower Song."

A reception followed and many friends of the happy couple attended, among the number being Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Elkins of Newport, Vt., and Master Clayton Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Hall of Bedford, Vt., Messrs. Hamilton and Chamberlain, of Newport, Vt. The groom's favors to the bridesmaids were silver pins, and the ushers wore bride's roses tied with a lover's knot of white silk. Mr. and Mrs. Richards have left for parts unknown, but will be "at home" at 236 Cabot street, after Nov. 13th. No cards.

A Double Wedding.

Of the many weddings which have occurred here for a long time double weddings have been almost a rarity. But one did occur last evening, and accordingly it was quite an event. They occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Coote, 261 Andover street. One bride was Miss Isabella Anna Coote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coote, and the groom Mr. Edward W. Richardson. The other bride was Miss Anna Jane Murdy of Wakefield, who has been the guest of Miss Coote for three weeks, preparatory to leaving for a visit to her home in Sweden. The groom was Mr. Olaf Edward Atkinson, also of Wakefield, who, desirous of keeping his sweetheart for "better for worse," wanted the ceremony performed at the same time, which was done. The clergymen were Rev. Dr. Coote of New York, cousin of Miss Coote, assisted by Rev. Hugh Montgomery. Both brides wore white silk gowns, with lace trimmings and bouquet of white roses. The maids of honor were Miss Bertha Halstead and Miss Anna Coote. Miss Coote, the bride, carried a fan set with pearls used by her mother at her wedding 40 years ago. A reception followed during the evening, and congratulations were many and equally bestowed upon happy grooms and brides. Late in the evening both started on wedding trips. Among the guests were Archie A. Boomhower of Worcester, Dr. James Coote of New York, Miss Sarah J. Coote of Worcester, and Mrs. Samuel Johnson of Haverhill.

Mulno-Ebert.

The wedding of Miss Edith L. Ebert, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Ebert, to Mr. Walter Mulno, son of Supt. Robert Mulno of the Lowell cemetery, at the home of the bride on Branch street yesterday afternoon was one of the prettiest of afternoon affairs. A large party of acquaintances of the happy couple were there to witness the ceremony and to offer them congratulations during the reception from 4 till 6. Rev. L. C. Manchester of St. John's church read the full Episcopal service, with the ring, and the bride was given away by her mother. The bride's gown was of white brocaded satin and she wore white roses.

The bridesmaid was Miss Avis Blaisdell, and the groomsman was Mr. Harry Mulno. The maid of honor was Miss Mabel Wiggins and the page Master Harold Wiggin. The ushers were Messrs. Edward Dennett, John Kilpatrick, David Staniels and Herbert L. Mulno.

The house was prettily decorated with autumn foliage and wild flowers, and refreshments were served by a caterer. Among the guests from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. Laton, Mr. and Mrs. Staniels and Mrs. George Ebert of Nashua, and the Misses Lucy and Lillian Mulno of Andover. The number of wedding gifts was very large, and their value considerable.

A Double Event.

The pleasant occasion of a tenth anniversary of marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Skinner of 604 Middlesex street and the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Stevens of Chelsea, Vt., brought together a goodly company of friends last evening. Mrs. Stevens was Miss Bernice Skinner, a daughter of Mr. Skinner by his first marriage, and she was married on Tuesday at the groom's home. The evening was spent socially, interspersed with a musical program, in which Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. C. P. Stevens, Miss Felicita Reno, Mrs. Fred Baron and Miss Sarah Bradford took part. Both the newly married couple and the host and hostess received valuable remembrances.

HOW FOSS PULLED WIRES.

HE SECURES THE NOMINATION DESPITE THE MAJORITY.

He Gave Political I. O. U's. to Unpledged Delegates For Their Support in the Convention—Walsh Was the Choice of the Majority—Foss Did Not Control His Own Committee for the Normal School.

Ether S. Foss has been chosen by the republicans to enter the senatorial contest against Hon. Peter J. Brady. Mr. Foss was disappointed in his ambition to become a license commissioner. He was unfortunate enough to get into a culde sac and his appeal to the legislature for a special act to get him out was in vain. He resigned his position as representative, having greater solicitude for the proper application of the liquor law than for representing his constituents in the Great and General court.

It is not a mark of gratitude on the part of an office holder to resign on the slightest pretext. When Mr. Foss accepted the nomination for representative, his constituents supposed he was going to serve the full term. But something more lucrative caught his eye, he yearned for a big pull among the liquor dealers of the city, for the power of granting or revoking licenses, but neither his prompt resignation nor his inordinate desire to become a license commissioner could move the legislature to pass a special act in his favor.

It was fortunate that good sense and sound judgment prevailed to prevent the establishment of a pernicious precedent such as the qualification of Foss by a special act would have been.

Mr. Foss came out of the whole affair discredited and disappointed. He had incurred the displeasure of his constituents by his futile efforts to secure appointment on the license commission and his utter disregard for their feelings and their interests.

Now he comes to ask higher honors at their hands; but how can they tell that he will serve throughout the senatorial term if elected? He has proven himself a time server, a chronic office seeker and a mercenary politician. Can the republicans of the district be expected to give him their cordial support after such a betrayal of their confidence? Not likely. But for the efforts of Mr. Foss to get to be license commissioner, the constitution of the local commission would have been different and some of the republican candidates realize and remember this.

They are in waiting for Mr. Foss at the polls. Their friends will oppose Foss. The republicans of Ward Four are opposed to him, as was shown by its delegation to the convention. He could not carry his own ward. As a matter of fact Mr. Walsh would have been the candidate had not Mr. Foss gone around among the unpledged delegates, and by various political wiles, by promises of favors to come and by personal political I. O. U.'s, signed, sealed and delivered, induced them to support him in the convention.

His nomination was unanimous we are told. Yes, the old time worn motion of making unanimous a nomination that was won only by two votes out of a total of 56, was carried of course. A similar motion was carried at the councillor convention the other day after a free rough and tumble fight such as has not been seen in this city since the days of Angel Gabriel. The motion to make Mr. Foss's nomination unanimous was carried, but did that make it unanimous? Not at all. There were present a majority in that convention who knew that if fairplay prevailed, Mr. Walsh would have been the nominee.

A republican who favored Walsh was seen after the convention and stated that Foss manipulated the wires in a disgraceful way. He had brought the greatest pressure upon men who were to vote for Walsh. "He worked upon them and got every bit of influence he could command to get them pledged to vote for him in the convention. Had Mr. Walsh used the same methods he could have beaten Foss by at least ten votes. I tell you Foss is not the choice of the republican majority, he will not poll the full republican strength and I here and now predict his defeat and the election of Hon. Peter J. Brady."

Had Senator Brady heard this statement it would have warmed the cockles of his heart. Yet it was a mere expression of a feeling which is very prevalent among republicans throughout the city.

***

It is absolutely necessary in a nominating speech to say something in praise of the candidate even if the truth must be considerably stretched. And so when Larkin T. Trull arose to nominate Mr. Foss, he misstated the facts when he said Foss did most of the work of bringing the normal school here. He was a member of the committee on finance and failed to control that committee in Lowell's favor. Senator Brady obtained the support of several committees besides those of which he was a member and Larkin T. Trull who was not in the legislature at all did much more work for the normal school than did Ether S. Foss.

***

The delegates to the third district councillor convention had even a worse fight than was witnessed at the councillor convention in this city. It was a trial of strength between the A. P. A. and the straight liberal republicans. For eleven ballots and during seven hours the battle raged in Wesleyan hall, Boston, and then an adjournment was taken without action. The A. P. A., candidate was R. S. Burnham of Revere and the regular republican candidate who was the most formidable opponent was George N. Swallow of Charlestown. The fights of the A. P. A. in all the councillor conventions indicate that the darklanternites want to have full control of the governor's council if they cannot control the governor.

MANY WRECKS

Mark the Path of the Great Cyclone

THAT SWEPT THROUGH LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

Six Persons Killed and $1,000,000 Worth of Property Lost.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 4.—Tuesday evening's cyclone grows in destructiveness as the details are gathered, and the sum total of the damage wrought by the wreck is yet untold. The day had been hot and sultry, and its culmination was the storm which wrecked business houses, filled the streets with debris, killed many and injured others.

The first intimation of the impending catastrophe was when the cyclone struck. All electric lights were extinguished, and the darkened streets were filled with flying roofs, walls and debris of all kinds. It swept up from the southwest, striking the city near the insane asylum, the mad ward of which was demolished. There Dr. Ingate was killed and several inmates seriously injured.

It then passed on to the penitentiary, a portion of which was wrecked. A convict was killed and several guards were injured. The terrible work continued toward the main part of the city, and its path was strewn with debris of wrecked buildings, tangled telegraph and telephone wires and fallen trees that had withstood the tempests of many decades. Many residences were more or less damaged, roofs blown away and walls partly demolished.

Great Damage to Buildings.

The next marked damage was when the storm struck the Martin building, occupied by the Arkansas Methodist church and several lawyers' offices. From that point east the scene that met the view of the vast throngs of people who gathered at the scene yesterday was beyond description. Some of the most substantial brick structures of the district were razed to the ground.

The wind was followed by a drenching downpour of rain, lasting for nearly an hour and keeping nearly everyone within doors, so that the real extent of the damage could not be ascertained at the time. Telephone wires in the business portion were all blown down, and communication by that means was impossible.

As soon as the rain had ceased somewhat, the darkened and debris filled streets were crowded with the excited populace, who picked their way about with a desire to lend assistance where it was needed. It is a matter of common wonder that hundreds were not killed, for no storm in the history of the country surpasses it in destructive powers.

The police were on the scene with an increased force, and everything was done to restrain the disorderly element from creating a disturbance. The saloons that were not destroyed were ordered closed at midnight. The patrol wagon was pressed into service and many of the injured were taken to headquarters, where their wounds were attended to.

Wires Blown Down In All Directions.

The storm did not last more than three minutes. The wires operating the fire alarm system were all blown down, and there was constant fear of fire, but fortunately none occurred. Such a disaster has not visited Little Rock in its history.

The losses will aggregate nearly $1,000,000. The damage at the state insane asylum is $200,000. Beside Dr. Ingate, assistant superintendent, who was killed beneath falling walls, three attendants and two patients are missing. It is believed they were buried under the walls.

The state penitentiary sustained a loss of $10,000. A convict named James was killed and several others injured. Jackson Boyd and a 3-year-old child were crushed to death in their home by a falling wall. When taken from the ruins the child was clasped in its father's arms. Both were dead. Everything is confusion and it is impossible to give losses in detail. Six persons are known to have been killed and others are missing, probably buried in the debris.

Offices Filled by Clergymen.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—The Maine Baptist Educational Society elected the following officers: Rev. D. H. S. Burrage, president; Rev. J. H. Burrows, vice president; Rev. C. E. Owen, secretary; Rev. W. H. Spencer, treasurer; Professor E. W. Hall, auditor. The proposition to form a Young People's union was voted down.

Woodbury Had a Big Lead.

RUTLAND, Vt., Oct. 4.—The following is the result of the official canvass of votes for governor presented at the opening of the legislature: Woodbury, Republican, 42,050; Smith, Democrat, 18,142; Whitman, Prohibitionist, 464; McGinnis, Populist, 739. Woodbury's plurality, 23,514; Woodbury's majority, 23,311.

Paid Two Dividends.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 4.—At the annual meeting of the Stark Manufacturing company the old board of officers was re-elected. The treasurer's report showed the total product for the year to be 11,115,000 pounds. Two dividends of 2 and 4 per cent were paid.

Coming In November.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The name of the new Austrian minister to the United States is Mr. von Hengelmuller. He will reach here early in November, at which time the present minister, Chevalier de Tavera, leaves for his new post in Brazil.

Rebate Vouchers Abolished.

PEORIA, Ills., Oct. 4.—The Whisky trust directors have decided to abolish the rebate vouchers system, the new order of things to take effect today. The directors are still in session and important developments are expected.

Struck by an Electric.

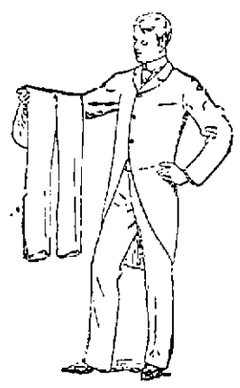
SYRACUSE, Oct. 4.—While on the way to the races, Dudley Miller of the Syracuse Post was knocked from an electric car by one passing in the opposite direction and was probably fatally injured.

Went to the Bottom.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 4.—Schooner Titmouse, with a load of stone, sprung aleak and sunk off Thatcher's island yesterday afternoon, about two miles off shore, in 30 fathoms. The crew rowed in here.

Will Try Once More.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 4.—Another attempt is to be made to end the great textile strike here. The state board of arbitration will convene, and representatives of both manufacturers and strikers will again face each other in a last effort to settle by harmonious action the great controversy. The basis of settlement will be if at all a compromise.



No recent introduction in clothing has met with such instantaneous success as the new brown and brown mixed fabrics.

These new effects will be found with the best merchant tailors, but were brought out too late to be made up by the ordinary ready-made clothiers.

With the exception of the several lots of Brown Serge and Cheviot Suits, which we have received from Rogers, Peet & Co., of New York, we do not know of any others to be had ready-made.

A chance here to get strictly custom styles before they become common.

Songs of the Army Sung in the Campaign.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The Japanese legation has recovered a budget of official news by the last mail which is of special interest. It gives extracts of the war songs written by Prince Airsugana and sung by the Japanese troops in their march toward Pekin.

They breathe great spite against the Chinese and say the time has come to plant the flag of the Rising Sun on the walls of Pekin. It urges the Japanese to strike down and chastise the Chinese barbarians and stigmatizes the Chinese army as one of cowards. The soldiers are called are undisciplined rabble and their arms are as fine ladies in a picture. The refrain of the songs is to march and fire on the Chinese as long as breath lasts.

The songs are sung to popular music and are taken up all over the island kingdom.

The Japanese minister of the interior has issued an edit stating that the war will not retard improvements in the empire. The war account must be kept separate, and at no time shall its expenditures overbalance those for improvements. The construction of railways is also to be continued.

Excitement in London Today Over the Cabinet Meeting to Consider Madagascan Troubles.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Excitement prevails in diplomatic circles today over the special meeting of the foreign cabinet called for tomorrow. It is publicly announced that the meeting is to consider protection to British subjects in China, and the French government says its relations with Great Britain were never more amicable.

A state of blockade of Madagascan ports has been declared and it is feared that England and France are in a diplomatic muddle over it.

More Land Bought for the Driven Wells.

The city of Lowell has recently bought of Samuel P. Perham and Albert P. Perham 17 acres of meadow land adjoining that where the city is now sinking driven wells. It is the intention to extend operations up the River Meadow valley and beyond the city line, as the purchased land is in Chelmsford.

HON. GEORGE M. STEARNS of Chicopee is to take up his residence in Brookline.

IF THE state election be not properly conducted it will not be for lack of precinct officers.

BOWLING, cricket and whist playing are the games which hold the attention of the majority at present.

CHINA SEEMS doomed to defeat. She anticipates her doom and rushes to meet it with the Japanese army close behind her.

LAST SUNDAY was the first in the history of New York when the liquor stores were closed. The drought was horrifying.

SO THE independent movement in New York state has subsided. There will be but one ticket and that will be the winner.

THE GREAT aim of the New York constitutional convention seems to have been to cheat the majority out of their political rights.

THE REPUBLICAN party of this state is fast succumbing to a disease with which it was once attacked in the early fifties and which is now known as Apaphobia.

HENRY CABOT LODGE will not be in a hurry to throw off his coat and enter the brunt of a political battle. He has been taught a salient lesson in the seventh district.

HON. JOHN E. RUSSELL, it is stated, has decided to accept the honor of again being nominated for governor on the democratic ticket. He is the only logical candidate.

THE LOTTIE COLLINS show was a disappointment to those who have heard her name associated with the Ta Ra Ra Boom de Re craze. Lottie will have to get a move on or she will soon be a back number.

THE LEXOW committee is after the police that have been using their clubs too freely. The committee is adducing evidence to show that the police are exempt from all laws and that they can kill, shoot, murder with impunity.

ACCORDING to the provisions adopted by the New York constitutional convention the political effect of the population of New York city is to be curtailed so that a party which is 50,000 in the minority in the state may control the state legislature. That is a blow at majority rule just as minority representation is in the city of Boston and elsewhere.

JAPAN, FROM all accounts, seems to be preparing for a triumphal march on Pekin. The fall of the Chinese capital before the Japanese forces would be an era in Oriental history beside which the Hegira would sink into insignificance. Civilization is always advanced when a civilized power vanquishes a barbarous one in an effort to promote the welfare of humanity by establishing just forms of government and abolishing the barbarous codes.

MINORITY REPRESENTATION FOR MIDDLESEX COUNTY.

The present commissioners are J. Henry Read of Westford, Samuel O. Upham of Waltham, and Francis Bigelow of Natick.

These are the three farmers who constitute the close corporation known as the commissioners of Middlesex county.

It is very strange that the democrats cannot get a man to break up this triumvirate. If it cannot be done by ordinary methods, and it may be impossible to overcome the ring for years on account of its power of perpetuating itself, then let the principle of minority representation be applied.

If it has such magnificent results in Boston why should it not work equally well in Middlesex county? It is time a democrat had a place upon the county commission. All up for a man who can break up the obnoxious county ring.

THE CHALLENGE issued through the Boston Advertiser by Rev. Fr. O'Brien to the leaders of the A. P. A., is a sweeping one. The Rev. Dr. Dunn who would set down all Catholics as ipso facto disloyal citizens will have an opportunity to prove his statement if he is not a complete coward as he is presumed to be by virtue of having made the charge. It is hoped that the commission of Protestant gentlemen will undertake to decide whether there is anything in the teachings of the Catholic church inconsistent with the highest patriotism and the most exacting loyalty to this country. If Fr. O'Brien's challenge be accepted the result will be to disprove the false charge against Catholics, upon which the very existence of the A.P.A. is based.

THE ABSORPTION of a lot of smaller or moribund clubs by the Vespers is a significant event in the history of clubdom in Lowell. The Vespers after gobbling up the Country club gathers in the M. M. A. which has been dragging out a dreary existence for want of courage to die for the past ten years.

THE RAILROAD commissioners will hold a public hearing on the subject of railroad fenders on October 22. What seems to be needed is a car attachment which will lift a person getting in the way and throw him or her into a commodious featherbed to be carried for that purpose.

LORD HAWKE and his cricketers will be beaten if appears by the Massachusetts team. His Lordship did not dream of the grit of Massachusetts men though they've beaten Johnny Bull and may do so still again.

HE TURNED THE TIDE.

A Fakir Whose Red Salve Proved to Be a Great Thing.

The fakir had opened up business on the public square of a southern town and was going on to tell how his "red salve" would cure toothache, neuralgia, backache, rheumatism, sprains and most everything else under the sun, when a big and ugly looking colored man pressed his way into the crowd and said:

"I dun bought a box of dat stuff of yo' ober to Augusta, an it hain't wuth shucks!"

"What! What's that you're saying?" demanded the fakir as he stopped short in his appeal to a suffering public.

"Dat stuff hain't no better'n so much mud!" growled the colored man.

"Sir," exclaimed the fakir, "you have publicly accused me of being a swindler, and the case is one which must be thoroughly investigated! I warrant my red salve to cure certain ailments or the money will be refunded. What was your ailment?"

"Pain, sah!"

"Where was that pain?"

"Down betwixt my shoulders."

"And you used the salve according to the directions?"

"Yes, sah."

"And you've used it all up, and the pain is still there?"

"De pain am still wuss, I reckon."

"Then my red salve has skipped a cog, and I must refund your money. First, however, let me make an examination. Come up here till I run my hand down behind your collar and see where the pain is."

The colored man had on a woolen shirt, which was open at the throat, and he bent his head and let the fakir slide his hand down. The latter felt around for a minute and then withdrew his hand and held a bent and rusty tenpenny nail up to view and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, is it any wonder my celebrated red salve couldn't take away the pain with this nail sticking into his back? One box of it pulled the nail over half way out, and yet he declares that I'm a liar and a robber! I think I felt at least three other nails, besides a pipe stem, a hairpin, a wishbone and a gimlet, and yet he has the face to come here and demand his money back! Does any one ever hear"—

"What dat nail cum from?" shouted the colored man as he danced around.

"Drawn out of your lungs by the use of one box of my world renowned red salve, sir."

"Ah mo' a-comin?"

"Heaps more, and yet you charge me with being a robber and murderer! I guarantee to refund the money in every case where a cure is not effected, and therefore I now tender"——

"No, sah—no, sah!" shouted the negro as he flung his arms about in great excitement. "I doan' dun want my money back! I dun wants another box of dat stuff to bring out all de razzors, jackknives, cotton choppers an cornplows dat's got lodged in my system dowin de las' 20 y'ars, an if one box won't do it doan' you dun leave dis town till I'ze got fo' or five! Gimme dat salve, an you, boy Hiram, cum along an rub it on an lookout fur nails an splinters wedged out!"—Detroit Free Press.

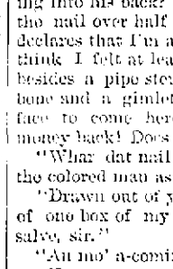
For Scrofula, Weak Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all severe, lingering Coughs PIERCE guarantees a CURE.



MRS. LINCOLN.

Before taking the "Discovery" I would have four or five bad coughing spells every day and would cough up mouthfuls of solid white froth, and before I took one bottle it stopped it. I could not walk across the room with the pain in my back and sides; but soon the pain was all gone, and I could sleep well at night. My general health is much better since taken the "Golden Medical Discovery" although I have been obliged to work hard on a farm.

ENGLAND'S CARE

At the Prospect of a New Naval Power.

FRANCE IS MAKING SOME CRAFTY MOVES.

Looking Toward Cutting Off Commerce in War Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The state department has been very fully advised from time to time by our representatives abroad of the inception and growth of the trouble between France and Great Britain relative to Madagascar. Efforts have also been made at intervals to induce our government to take sides in the matter, based on our large commercial interests in the island, for, surprising as it may seem to persons who know of the existence of Madagascar from the geographies, the United States controls three-tenths of the trade of this great island, which, in territorial area, quite equals France.

For years all of this commerce has been more or less hampered in growth by a standing dispute between France and the Hovas government, touching the recognition of consuls. The French claim the right under treaty to control all of the foreign relations of Madagascar, and include in their claim a right to issue exequaturs to consuls. The Hovas government held that the consuls' functions pertained only to commerce and were not connected with foreign relations. For this reason it insisted upon controlling their recognition.

Duties of Consuls Interfered With.

Things came to such a pass finally that consuls had to be provided with dual credentials, and even then they were sometimes not permitted to exercise their functions. The United States has had much difficulty in this respect, and our present consul at Tamatave is acting now under a provisional and unsatisfactory arrangement.

The British and Germans have not relished the claims of France in this respect and have indirectly sought to make the United States take the lead in repudiating them, though so far without success, as our state department has steadily abstained from interference.

Aside from this question of commerce, always of importance in British eyes, the principal reason for British concern in Madagascar, as it is understood here, lies in the fear that France is about to establish a new Gibraltar in the Indian ocean that would in time of war give her the power to totally cut off commerce between India, Australia, the Cape settlements and England.

France Strengthening Madagascar.

Already the French have been busily engaged in making a fortress and naval station at Diego Suarlez, on the northern extremity of Madagascar. Here is a magnificent harbor, almost landlocked, and even at present quite as impregnable as Gibraltar itself. Making this harbor their base, a few French cruisers might so guard the Indian sea as to make British commerce impossible.

And the French are reaching out. They want more land around Diego Suarlez to extend their fortifications, and they want Fort Dauphin at the southern extremity of Madagascar and several points between on the eastern and western coasts.

The British believe that these fortifications seriously threaten their East African possessions, and they are disposed to protest, but they find themselves much hampered, for when Great Britain annexed Zanzibar, lying to the west across Mozambique channel, they did so through an understanding with France that the latter should have a free hand to deal with Madagascar.

Diplomatic Circles Are Watching

the French-English contention over Madagascar as possibly foreshadowing a conflict for supremacy in Africa and the establishment there of an empire similar to the British empire in India.

A member of the diplomatic corps points out recent significant action indicating the basis of this belief. Last May Great Britain entered into a secret alliance by which it secured control over the Congo Free State in the heart of Africa. The arrangement was made at Brussels with the King of Belgium, who has been instrumental in exploring and developing the Congo country.

With this acquisition, Great Britain secured the middle link between her colonies in the south of Africa and those of Egypt on the north. In effect, it established Great Britain as supreme from the Mediterranean to the Cape of Good Hope. This belt of country extended north and south through the middle of Africa, except along a short stretch of the lower Nile, and as to this, English engineers reported that the portions of the river within British dominion could be so affected that the entire route of the stream could be controlled by the British.

The result of the Brussels arrangement was to give hopes in England and fears in France that the British empire of Africa was about to be accomplished in the same quiet way that the British dominion in Asia had been effected.

France on the Watch.

The incident has, however, aroused France to the strengthening of her hold on African soil if she hopes to head off England's purpose of securing commercial control of the country by establishing an English belt from the north to the south.

It was only four months ago that the British arrangement at Brussels was effected, and it is within the past few weeks that the French protest caused it to be vacated. Now comes the French move in Madagascar, which has caused such agitation and talk of war in London and Paris.

It is not, says the diplomat, any mere contention over Madagascar, but a part of the great contention between Great Britain and France for commercial control and political empire over Africa. For this reason, the present contest is regarded as affecting not only Madagascar but the future of the Dark Continent.

Nothing In It.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Inquiries made at the foreign office late elicited the information that the calling of a cabinet council has no connection whatever with the meeting of the French cabinet on the same day.

The relations between Great Britain and France have certainly been strained during the past six months, since the attacks of the French press upon the Marquis of Dufferin, the British ambassador at Paris. Numerous colonial questions have also given rise to friction.

Although the government ministers would be glad to seize upon an occasion to discuss this matter, the cabinet would not have been summoned but for the dangerous appearance of the situation in China.

The Marquis of Dufferin is still in the north of Ireland. If the relations with France had been the cause of summoning a cabinet council, Lord Dufferin would certainly have come to London to consult with Lord Rosebery, the premier.

The Times, in a leader, points to the fact that neither the Marquis of Dufferin nor Baron de Coursel, the new French ambassador, is at his post, as proof that there are no serious matters between the two governments in dispute.

No Cause For Alarm.

BELFAST, Oct. 4.—The Marquis of Dufferin, British ambassador to France, is enjoying a vacation at his Belfast seat. To a reporter he said he saw no reason for immediate alarm in the relations between Great Britain and France.

BODIES WASHED ASHORE

Give Evidence of Many Wrecks During the Recent Southern Hurricane.

KEY WEST, Oct. 4. — More than 50 human bodies have been washed up along the reefs near here in the last few days. Many wrecks have been sighted near the Florida coast by the steamers which have arrived here. It may be that the bodies are from vessels wrecked by the recent hurricane in the Gulf of Mexico, and have been carried to Key West by the Gulf stream.

The steamer El Rio reported that on Sept. 29 she sighted a large steamer ashore eight miles northeast of Alligator reef. The vessel seemed to be a foreign tramp steamer.

The Osseo brought to Key West the first and second mates of the bark Wandering Chief, from Belize to Havre, which was totally wrecked on Elbow reef. The two men were the only survivors.

Most of the crew of the bark Brandon were lost when she was wrecked on Crocker's reef on Sept. 24. She was bound from Ship Island, Miss., to Liverpool.

The Morgan line steamer El Morte, recently arrived at New Orleans, signalled a large ship, bottom up, north of Alligator reef and a large barkentine well up on the reef, whose names she could not ascertain.

Professor David Swing Dead.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Professor David Swing died last evening. He was taken sick about a week ago with gastric fever, which developed into acute jaundice. Professor Swing was born in Cincinnati 65 years ago. He accepted a call to occupy the pulpit of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Chicago, in 1866. From that time to his death he held a place in the popular favor of the western metropolis. His originality in thought and his liberality in the interpretation of a creed attracted much attention.

Flaw in the Indictment.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Oct. 4.—In the United States court the case of Dr. J. C. Moore, charged with the embezzlement of funds of the Commonwealth National bank of that city, of which he was president, was brought to a sudden termination owing to a fatal error in the indictment. The defense claimed that there was no place in the indictment where the bank was properly designated. Judge Webb instructed the jury to render a verdict for the defendant and Dr. Moore was discharged.

Children Kidnapped.

SALEM, Mass., Oct. 4.—Four men forcibly kidnapped from the residence of Mrs. A. H. Gledden yesterday her two children, and Mrs. Gledden claims that her husband was one of the men. Several years ago Mrs. Gledden's husband sued her for divorce, but was defeated, and she was given the custody of the children.

Whipping Post For Child Beaters.

ALBANY, Oct. 4.—Commodore Gerry addressed the final session of the convention of the humane society in favor of the introduction of the whipping post into the state of New York, to be used especially in the punishment of those who are cruel to children. Dr. Hendricks, a Catholic priest, spoke in the same line.

Endorsed by Two Parties.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—At the county convention of the New York state Democracy last night, John W. Goff was endorsed as a candidate for mayor. His name was presented by ex-Mayor Grace. Mr. Goff was also nominated for mayor at the meeting last night of the German-American Reform union.

The Tennessee Vets.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Oct. 4.—At the first regular session of the Army of the Tennessee, General Dodge presided. Following General Dodge's remarks, General Howard addressed the meeting. The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were read, and the convention soon afterward adjourned.

Georgia's State Election.

ATLANTA, Oct. 4.—The Populists will probably increase their vote over that of two years ago. Atkinson, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, is being badly scratched in some localities by Confederate veterans, but the state is carried by Democrats by reduced majorities.

Gove For Congress.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—Jesse M. Gove, the original Blaine man, was yesterday nominated for congress by acclamation by the delegates to the Ninth district Republican convention, which was held in the headquarters of the Republican city committee.

Died of Typhoid Fever.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 4.—Drs. Reynolds and Drexel yesterday performed an autopsy on Chester Pook of Newton, the last of that family to die. No trace of poison was found, and the cause of death was ascertained to be typhoid fever.

President's Fall Is Predicted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—News from Area, Venezuela, announces that that town and Caro are besieged by revolutionists. President Crespo is preparing for a flight to Europe, where his family has already gone.

Saved the Cargo.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—During a gale the lobster smack Edith M. Thompson was driven ashore on Ragged island. Her crew got off safely and saved the cargo of 2500 lobsters, but the craft went to pieces.

FROM OUR 5 O'CLOCK EDITION

Of Yesterday.

ARRESTED FOR THE MURDER.

PROVIDENCE POLICE HAVE A SUSPECT LOCKED UP.

He Is Called a Man About Town, and Says He Knew Emily Chambers Who Was Found Murdered On Monday.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 3.—Lawrence Keegan aged 50 years, a former clerk in one of the largest dry goods stores here and of late a man about town is under arrest charged with the murder of Emily Chambers, whose body was found on Monday. Keegan declares his innocence but admits he has known her of late.

JAMES C. MOORE

Found Not Guilty by a Jury at Portsmouth.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

PORTSMOUTH, Oct. 3.—James C. Moore was declared not guilty on the charge of wrecking several financial institutions at Manchester last spring by a jury today.

Long Prize Fight Today.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 3.—Denver Ed. Smith and Lawrence Farrell are to fight to finish in some secluded place today, and as both men are in prime condition a long fight is expected.

Fire in An Art Studio.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

HAVERHILL, Oct. 3.—Fire in the art studio of Miss M. P. Gardner, 243 Washington street, destroyed $1000 worth of valuable paintings.

Elected Lord Mayor.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Alderman Sir John Reynolds was elected mayor today.

POLICE COURT TODAY.

There Were No Cases of Importance Before Judge Hadley.

Three suspicious persons and four drunks were released.

There were eight drunks.

"John Speori are you guilty or not guilty?" said the clerk.

"Leetle bit" replied Speori who is a Swede.

"Where do you live?" said the court.

"I come from Pol-ham," said John.

"Where do you live now?"

"I live now in no house."

Then Billy Bumps and Speori had a discussion on the tariff presumably in the Swedish tongue which was rudely interrupted by the clerk who told John he had been elected to an office in the Bridgewater state farm.

John Jackson, was so drunk last night that he mistook North Chelmsford for Boston. He was fined $10.

Frank Rawson and his wife related two stories to the court, and Probation Officer Tuttle adjusted matters.

Daniel F. Knight, ex-policeman of Tewksbury, was in on complaint of his pretty daughter for non-support. This case was also taken in charge by the probation officer.

Marshall Feffo pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery on Joseph Roberts and settled the case. He was allowed to go upon paying the costs of the case.

Liquor and other articles seized at the place of John Fahey and Collins & Vaughn were forfeited.

Thomas Hart for drunkenness was sent to jail for four months.

John McCabe, who stole a pair of shoes from Alexander Claremont, Saturday, and put them up at a pawn shop, was sent to jail for four months.

Mary Duchesne pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault and battery on Alfred Moreasse and retained Lawyer Hamel as counsel. Moreasse told a long story which for the most part was unintelligible although it was learned that Mary struck him on the face.

The Duchesne woman was found not guilty and was discharged.

LOCAL NOTES.

The county and councillor conventions will probably be held October 11, the same date and place of holding the senatorial convention.

The convention of the ninth congressional district will be held Friday. It is expected that Fitz will be nominated by acclamation.

John H. Desmond of Waltham has been nominated by the democrats of the fourth congressional district held at Framingham yesterday. The district is republican by 3000.

Candidates for representative are requested to file their names and addresses with the clerk of the city committee on or before Saturday, October 13, in order that their names may be put upon the ballots.

Among the gentlemen mentioned as possible candidates for county commissioner to oppose Mr. Upham are Peter A. Fay, Stephen B. Puffer, William A. Read, August Fels, Richard B. Allen, ex-Senator Drury and Alderman Bagley.

Arrested on Serious Charge.

Charles Clerau, aged 22 years, residing on Decatur street, was arrested this morning by Inspectors Laflamme and Allen, charged with breaking and entering. The officers claim that Clerau was an accomplice of Willie Gelineau in the burglaries of the stores of John J. Mahoney, Foote & Co., Charles W. Swan and others. He was arrested while at work in Stover's shoe shop.

THE M. M. A.

It is Partially Turned Over to the Young Blood at Its Annual Meeting.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Middlesex Mechanics association was held in Mechanics hall, last night, and the attendance was a genuine surprise. Instead of the usual handful of members, there were nearly 40 present when President J. G. Hill called to order promptly at 8 o'clock.

The board of government reported that the applications of 52 candidates for membership had been favorably considered, and the same were presented to the body for action.

Included in the new members voted in are Dr. J. A. Gage, R. F. Hemenway, Edward Ellingwood, George E. Lull, W. A. Sherman, C. H. Storer, John K. Whittier, Geo. H. Stevens, Dr. C. H. Ricker, R. E. Wescott, W. R. B. Whittier, A. G. Swapp, Dr. Leonard Huntress, A. M. Chadwick, F. A. Buttrick, B. Stevens, J. A. Pevey, J. M. Kilgore, James Thorpe, W. H. Gerrish, George S. Carney, E. B. Carney, J. H. Grover, Walter Leigh, C. I. Hood, J. B. Thomas, F. S. Baker, Joseph Bennett, C. E. Foss, M. L. Page, F. S. Bean, C. E. Goulding, Geo. S. Motley, E. W. Trull, Willis Farrington, J. B. Russell, Butler Ames, Paul Butler, B. F. Salmon, P. W. Taylor, Fred N. Wier, H. K. Gates, J. B. Keyes, D. F. Goddard, A. G. Slater, Asa Flint, W. W. Johnson, L. F. Sherman.

There was a long discussion on the affairs of the club in which the old timers were quietly given set backs.

The admission of new members is the first move to get the M. M. A. incorporated into the Vesper club, the ultimate result of which will be the use of this building as a down town club house.

Booming The People's Party.

The question which will be discussed at next meeting of the Workingmen's debating union, is: "Resolved, that the present financial policy of the government favors the rich to the detriment of the poor."

At the meeting last evening, Thomas F. Connolly and James Cryan were present and outlined the principles of the People's party.

TAXES.

Collector's Notice.

TAX LIST FOR 1894,

With instructions to collect in the manner prescribed by the Statutes of the Commonwealth and the Ordinances of the City of Lowell, the sums assessed by them to the persons named therein, and he is now ready to receive payment of said Taxes at his office in City Hall.

When a Poll Tax only is assessed, the Tax is due, and if not paid forthwith, the Collector will proceed to collect the Tax as directed by the General Statutes.

SUMMONS, bearing costs, will be issued against delinquent Poll and Personal Tax Payers on or about November 1st.

INTEREST at the rate of seven per cent. per annum will be charged upon all Taxes which remain unpaid October 20, 1894, until the same shall be paid; and such interest shall be added to and considered a part of said Taxes. Poll Taxes are assessed on every male inhabitant above the age of 20 years. On undivided real estate each heir is liable for the whole tax. An error in the name of the person taxed does not defeat the collection of the Tax. Each partner is liable for the whole Tax assessed under the partnership name.

The assessors are now distributing Tax Bills. If any taxable inhabitant, by removing his residence since the first day of May, or from any cause, should not receive his Tax Bill, he must consider the Tax demanded by this notice, and a new bill will be made out on application at the office of the City Treasurer and Collector of Taxes if a Tax has been assessed.

All who preserve their Tax Bills and bring them when they come to pay, will save the time of making a new bill and facilitate the business of the office.

THE RATE OF TAXATION FOR 1894 IS $17.40 ON $1000.

Office Hours: From 9 o'clock a.m. to 3 p.m.

For the convenience of the Tax paying public the office of the Collector will be open in the evening as follows: Mondays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, from Oct. 1 to Oct. 13, inclusive, 7 to 8 o'clock p. m. Mondays, Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, from Oct. 15 to Oct. 20, inclusive, from 7 to 9 o'clock p. m.

☞ Look for your Tax Bill at your place of residence May 1st, 1894, and bring it with you.

Be joyful and smoke Tower's corner.

Congressman Stevens is reported as seriously ill at his home in Andover.

Mr. Robert McConnell, managing editor of the Halifax Chronicle is visiting in Lowell.

The alarm from box 16 was for a trifling blaze last night, at Stearns' laundry, Lawrence street.

A delegation of Lowell Red Men will go to Lynn tomorrow to join in the big parade of the order.

The famous Jubilee band of the Salvation Army will be heard in Lowell October 6 and 7. Hallelujah!

The street committee has voted in favor of macadamizing Kinsman street and laying edgestones on May street.

The Y.W.C.A. outing club will give a trolley party to Chelmsford and return, and to North Billerica and return on Saturday at 2.30 p. m.

The residents of Eighteenth street presented a strong case for a sewer on that street before Alderman Bagley of the sewer committee last night.

The musicale to take place at Odd Fellow's hall next Wednesday evening will be a fine treat. It will be complimentary to Mr. C. W. Johnson, and the price of tickets is placed at 25 cents.

Miss Maud McRae of Morning Star lodge, Juvenile Templars of this city, won a gold medal for proficiency in elocution at the Massachusetts Juvenile Templars' institute at West Newton last Saturday.

Past Grand Knights Thomas Lee and Robert J. Thomas attended a meeting of the state executive council, Knights of Columbus, in Boston, Monday night, and arrangements were made for a theatre party, Oct. 12.

The Ippos have elected these officers: President, W. T. Whittaker; vice president, A. H. Bagshaw; secretary, J. H. Shepard; treasurer, Fred Hallas. It was voted to hold the annual ball Christmas eve, in Welis' hall.

Middlesex Safe Deposit and Trust Co.

The banking rooms of the Middlesex Safe Deposit and Trust Co. are completed and will be open for public inspection until Saturday night, the 13th of October. The bank will open for business on Monday morning, October 15. W. M. SAWYER, Treasurer.

Big Down Town Club.

The new move in the M. M. A. means a down town club house under the care of the Vesper club and the formation of the strongest club in the city, with a membership of 500. The old building on Dutton street will probably be turned into a big club house.

'Twas Ever Thus.

A well known carpet layer, whose principal stock in trade consists of a stretcher, hammer and scissors, says that he, like other tradesmen, loses, in the course of the year, several sets of tools; further, he adds that he suffers his greatest loss while working in churches.

Victory After a Long Fight.

After four years of steady petitioning the street committee has recommended the petition of residents of Centralville beyond Thirteenth street for a sidewalk on the easterly side of Bridge street, from Thirteenth to Eighteenth streets. The chief opponent to the improvement has been Dan Gage who has charge of much land abutting the street.

Caledonian Club Election.

The election in the local lodge of Caledonians resulted as follows: Chief, J. S. Hastings; 1st chieftain, George Gordon; 2d chieftain, J. W. Gregor; 3d chieftain, George Hall; 4th chieftain, Andrew Mowatt; chaplain, Rev. Robert Court; auditors, Messrs. Moir, Stratton and Anderson; directors, A. Livingston, George Carter, J. Pettigrew, George Gordon, J. W. Stratton; pipers, Andrew Murray and James Frazer; standard bearers, James Pettigrew. A resolution of condolence with the chaplain, Rev. Dr. Court, who is ill, was passed.

PROBATE COURT.

McIntire, J.

Wills presented for probate: Catherine Cotter, Lowell; John Keyes, Tyngsboro.

Administrations: K. C. Morse, Lowell; John Wright, Ashby; Jacob Goward, Lowell; A. L. Fessenden, Townsend; Catherine Smith, Lowell; A. M. Ripley, Lowell.

MRS. PARAN STEVENS.

Knows the Art of Free Advertising in the Social Circle.

Mrs. Paran Stevens still continues to create a stir. Besides entertaining a party of European nobility, she had trouble with a tradesman. Judge Baker has decided that the entering of judgment against Mrs. Paran Stevens last week was an error, and he has revoked it and replaced the case on the docket. A tradesman sued her for about $10. Her lawyer was engaged on the Hamilton divorce suit and he was not aware that the case was to be called. Mrs. Stevens claims that she did not know that she owed the man, and that he had not sent the bill, hence she was in ignorance of her indebtedness.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Stevens called at the tradesman's store and a stormy scene ensued. Crowds gathered, and Newport was treated to another painful sensation.

DEATH'S CRUEL BLOW.

It Robbed a Young Man of His Mother Even While His First Care Was for Her Comfort.

A sad incident happened just previous to the performance of "Wang" Monday night. One of the male members of the company while eating his supper at the Farragut house, received the telegram. He opened the envelope, and while reading it was seen by those nearby to turn deathly pale.

They inquired the trouble, but he was unable to answer. He handed them the telegram and they read the words that told him his mother had died that day. Those who were present say the sight was a pitiable one.

The young man went to his room, sat down, unable to say or do anything. Finally one of his friends tried to console him, and wrote a message home.

Only that evening the young man had written to his mother, and the letter was yet in his pocket; he had not had time to mail it. The letter contained the greater portion of his salary for last week, and he was sending it home.

Shook Hands With Schoolmates.

Capt. Joseph Sladen, all the way from Portland, Oregon, and full of reminiscences dropped in on Post 42, G. A. R., last evening, and spent the evening with the comrades. Capt. Sladen is a Lowell boy and enlisted with the 33rd with Capt. J. P. Thompson. He was a member of the staff of Gen. O. O. Howard.

He was also a schoolmate of Past Commander J. D. S. Baldwin.

Tribute to the Late James Dempsey.

Editor LOWELL SUN:

Dear Sir—Noticing in Tuesday's issue of THE SUN the item of the death of Mr. James Dempsey of Pawtucket, R. I., I desire to say Mr. Dempsey had been in attendance at the meetings of the N. E. Cotton Manufacturers' Association held last week at the Crawford house. At these meetings he took a very active part and gave to the members many interesting facts concerning his very large and varied experiences in his special branch of manufacturing.

His sudden death comes as a great shock to us who were so recently in his company and will be severely felt in his absence at our future meetings.

Mr. Dempsey was a great friend of and a constant attendant at the meetings of the association and a man most highly esteemed by its members.

E. W. THOMAS.

FOSS WAS THE WINNER.

TAME SENATORIAL COEVENTION OF THE REPUBLICANL.

He Was Given Credit of Bringing the Normal School Here While Hon. Francis Jewett Boomed the Other Candidate.

Ether S. Foss is the man who will be licked by Hon. Peter J. Brady this fall.

Ether was nominated last night in the tamest convention ever held.

There wasn't even any enthusiasm to speak of, manifested towards the candidates.

Everyone seemed afraid to get up and make a motion.

Perhaps they were all afraid of incurring the displeasure of the A. P. A., and Simon B. Harris.

Walter Coburn was the only man with any lip to him; he made all the motions.

Simon B. flushed with the victory of Tuesday's convention found his way to the entrance of Huntington hall, long before the time of opening the door.

He was one of the first to gain entrance to the improperly heated hall, and during the half hour preceding the calling of the senatorial convention, his voice could be heard way above the din of conversation as he hustled here and there getting in his work.

Jackson hall boasts of two stoves and a range. They were in the hall last night but they might as well have been in the river for all the heat they gave out.

Before eight o'clock Larkin Trull, he of the oily tongue and quiet ways, came in and held a consultation with Janitor Brousseau who was speaking of his prospects for an aldermanic nomination with Chairman Kileski of the republican residue of the city committee.

About 8 o'clock all the delegates were in the hall and the odor of more or less fragrant cigar smoke permeated the atmosphere.

Mr. Foss was on hand almost as early as Simon B., but he was much less active than the monstrous convention dictator.

The A. P. A. was represented to be sure, and its members felt happy after capturing two conventions in as many days.

Called to Order.

A. G. Thompson called to order after eight o'clock. All the preliminary business was of a cut and dried nature.

Col. A. M. Chadwick was made temporary chairman as per slate, and George A. Roper, secretary, though he was not a member of the convention. Alperman Westall was then nominated but he was not a member of the convention.

Finally Ed Conant nominated A. G. Swapp and Andrew took his corner.

The committee on credentials appointed consisted of Albert Bixbie, Ward 1; John W. Stewart, Ward 2; S. W. Fletcher, Ward 3; Hon. Francis Jewett, Ward 4; Walter Coburn, Ward 5; Frank Hobbs, Ward 6.

It was voted on motion of Peter Caddell of Caledonian picnic fame, to allow the delegations to fill their own vacancies.

The committee on credentials reported 52 delegates, a full convention.

The temporary organization was then made permanent.

The Nomination Speeches(?)

Chairman Chadwick then called for nominations for senator.

Hon. Francis Jewett spoke of a fine republican workingman who had always hustled for the party's success.

The speaker dwelt at length upon this man's oratorical abilities, and concluded by placing in nomination the name of Alonzo G. Walsh.

Larkin T. Trull then walked to the front of the hall and spoke on the needlessness of long speeches and nominated Ether S. Foss.

Of the applause which followed the mention of the names, the greater amount was bestowed on Foss.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Trull said that Foss did most of the work of getting the normal school here. (Is it here?)

No one seemed to want to second either nomination and Walter Coburn moved to proceed to ballot.

The committee to juggle ballots were Mr. Coburn, Ed. Conant, D. H. Varnum and Chas. Stickney.

Foss On One Ballot.

The balloting resulted as follows:

Necessary for a choice	27
A. G. Walsh	23
E. S. Foss	29

At this, first there was a little enthusiasm shown.

On motion of Hon. Francis Jewett the nomination of Mr. Foss was made unanimous.

A committee was appointed to hunt up Foss and bring him to the platform and Walter Coburn was then elected a member of the state central committee.

When Foss took the platform he was greeted with applause.

He thanked the convention,

Only that, and nothing more.

Adjourned.

DECIDES TO MEET FITZSIMMONS IN A GLOVE FIGHT.

Nelson Is Out of His Class—He is Beaten by Directum in Three Straight Heats.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—William A. Brady, Corbett's manager, has telegraphed the New York Herald to transfer the $1000 posted there in behalf of O'Donnell in Corbett's name, to go with $9000 which was posted this morning with David W. Blanchard of Boston, making the $10,000 which Fitzsimmons' backers will be expected to cover. Brady also telegraphed The Herald that Corbett would meet Fitzsimmons in New York city on Oct. 11 to arrange details. Brady said that if any one else covers the $10,000, Corbett would meet them. A dispatch from the Olympic club last night, containing the resolutions passed by the club declaring the championship forfeited to Fitzsimmons, was replied to by Corbett as follows: "Your resolutions received. Cheer up and be merry; there's only one bite to a cherry."

A fight looks probable now. Where and when, is the problem that will be discussed. Corbett does not want to accept the Olympic club's offer right off quick, as another offer may be made. Corbett was playing at Hartford last night.

Fitzsimmons Is Tickled.

DERBY, Conn., Oct. 4.—Bob Fitzsimmons received a telegram from the New York Herald last night, stating that Corbett had covered the money at The Herald office. Fitzsimmons was about as much pleased at the news as a boy with his first pair of pants. He said he would meet Corbett at The Herald office on Oct. 11 to sign an agreement and would do all he could to force Corbett into signing. He says he is willing to make any reasonable sacrifice to bring on the fight. He prefers fighting before the Olympic club, but will fight anywhere, for any sum and under almost any conditions.

THE TEMPLE CUP

Must Be Played For Under Old Agreement or Not at All.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The Baltimore and New York Baseball clubs will play for the Temple cup according to the rules and regulations prepared by the committee appointed by the league last spring, or they will not play at all.

Such is the decision of Secretary Young of the League, after receiving a letter from C. H. Byrne. Young decided that as the National League had given him and Byrne full authority to provide the regulations governing a contest for the Temple cup, that the regulations made must stand, and that the agreement made by Captains Hanlon and Ward to divide the receipts equally was in conflict with their regulations, and any game played under the agreement would be simply exhibition games and not for the cup. The captains of the two teams will simply be forced to agree to the 65 and 35 percentage arrangement.

Manager Hanlon was asked at Baltimore whether he would play for the Temple cup on the basis of 65 per cent of the receipts to the winners.

"You may say," said Manager Hanlon, "that the Baltimore players positively refuse to play the series except on the divide plan agreed between Mr. Ward and myself."

"Do you really mean, Mr. Hanlon, that if the New Yorks refuse to play except on the share alike plan that the games will not be played?"

"I most emphatically do," he replied.

DIRECTUM AGAIN.

Black Beauty Wins the Three Heats In the Race With Nelson.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—Maine's stallion has found his Waterloo. The greatest race ever trotted in Maine drew a small crowd to Rigby track to see the contest between Directum and Nelson. Hickok drove Directum. Hod Nelson drove the Maine horse and drew the pole.

After scoring three times the pair were given a splendid start. Nelson drove wide in the first quarter and carried Directum well out. The Maine horse set the pace and led by a full length to three-quarters. Then the black stallion came to the front and passed beneath the wire under the whip with Nelson a length behind. Time, 2:10.

Directum got the lead in the second heat, but was pushed hard all the way around, Nelson leading on the backstretch. On the homestretch Nelson fell back to Directum's haunches and finished there, both horses going under the wire beneath the whip. Time, 2:13¼.

The third heat was Directum's from the start. Hickok pushed him hard and left the Maine stallion far in the rear. At three-quarters Nelson gave up the race and trotted under the wire far behind.

Directum made the quarter in 32¾, half in 1:03½, three-quarters in 1:33½, mile in 2:08¼, lowering the New England racing track record almost 2 seconds.

Smith Won on a Foul.

DENVER, Oct. 4.—About 200 sporting men saw the mill between Denver Ed Smith and Lawrence Farrell for a purse of $5000 in a ring pitched on the open prairie, in the same spot where Smith defeated Farrell eight years ago. Smith weighed 184 pounds and Farrell 171 pounds. Farrell fouled several times, and in the seventh round Referee Gallagher gave the fight to Smith on a bad foul. This is Smith's first fight since he whipped Goddard.

Fitz's Successor.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—John E. Dempsey has written to the sporting editor of The Daily Item: "Judging from the tone of Mr. Fleischmann's letter in the morning papers, I take it for granted that he has relinquished the title of middleweight champion. If this be so, I hold myself ready to defend that title. I will meet any man in the world at 154 pounds, and as a token of good faith, I deposit in your hands the enclosed check for $500."

Bolingbroke Club's Offer.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Bolingbroke club, expressing through the Sporting Life its astonishment at Corbett's peculiar notions, offers a purse of £3000 for a match between Jackson and Fitzsimmons, £100 to be allowed to each for expenses.

An Unprofitable Season.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 4.—The stockholders of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company elected the old board of officers. The past year has been an unprofitable one for the company. The product for the year ending May, 1894, was 87,037,030 yards; sales, 74,174,431 yards.

Debate Won't Come Off.

OMAHA, Oct. 4.—The state Republican central committee has refused a political debate between Governor McKinley and Congressman Bryan, declaring that the Ohio statesman's presence in the west is for a specific purpose. Bryan challenged McKinley.

A Benevolent Woman's Will.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 4.—The will of Lucinda P. Hough leaves $4000 to churches in East Longmeadow, bequeathes $1000 each to the American Seamen's Friend society, the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Missionary society and the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission society.

Doing Is Out Again.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Charles Doing, who was a jail guard 18 years ago, and who permitted Captain Howgate to escape, was reappointed to his old position just after Howgate's recapture in New York. The judges of the district court conferred with Jail Warden Leonard yesterday, and as a result Doing was relieved from duty.

A Creditable Performance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The old American clipper ship Great Admiral arrived yesterday from London after a remarkably fast run of 23 days. Considering her age, this is a very creditable performance. The Great Admiral is in her 26th year, and was built at Boston, where she is owned. Her registered tonnage is 1497 tons.

AN AWFUL DEATH

Boston Lineman Electrocuted Trimming Lights.

THE ATTEMPTED RESCUER ALSO KILLED BY FALL.

Thousands of People Witnessed the Frightful Sight.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—A horrible electrocution occurred this morning, and the victim was a light trimmer employed by the Boston Electric Light company.

Charles E. Day was on a pole at Congress street trimming the lamp, and passers by heard a faint groan.

He was seen to be helpless and from his eyes, nose and mouth issued a blue flame. His body stiffened and then grew limp.

Word was sent to the emergency hospital and an ambulance came. Meanwhile two men had tried to climb the pole and were shocked; one young man got hold of Day and was thrown 30 feet to the ground and badly hurt.

One of the ambulance men named Munroe went up the pole and was thrown down suffering a fractured skull. He died before reaching the hospital.

After great exertions Day's body was lowered and taken to the police morgue. J. J. McCarthy, a lineman, also got a shock and, falling, was frightfully hurt.

A dead wire coming in contact with the light wire was the cause. Warnings have been sent out to all linemen to use extra precautions.

LOCAL NOTES.

The committee on streets will meet tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Miss Abbie M. Smith calls special attention to some exquisite designs in millinery. Seed ad. in this paper.

Irving C. Gates has been divorced from Ella J. Gates by the Suffolk county court. They were married here in 1867.

Miss J. F. Kenney's opening of fall and winter millinery will take place Friday and Saturday of this week at 125 Merrimack street.

The Independent club of Ward Six held a meeting last evening and discussed the present political situation. The club as yet has not endorsed any particular candidate.

Friday and Saturday of this week will be the opening days at Courville & Tarte's millinery and dressmaking parlors, 131 East Merrimack street. A cordial invitation is extended.

Miss Sarah H. Cahill cordially invites the public to the opening of her branch millinery store in Corbett's new block on Gorham street. The opening will be held tomorrow and Saturday. The store will be managed by Miss Delia Renaud.

The millinery stores have undergone great changes in two days preparatory to the openings so successfully inaugurated today. The work rooms of millinery stores near Kirk street looked like dressing rooms of a theatre, the naked wax figures having quite realistic yet ghastly appearances.

The Distress of Nations.

At last evening's meeting of the Seventh Day Adventists at Odd Fellows' hall, Merrimack street, Elder H. J. Fannan discussed the subject, "Labor against capital, Distress of Nations; What do these things mean?"

Jews Celebrated and Lost Their Jobs.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 4.—Eight Jews employed in Chick Brothers' shoe factory spent Monday and Tuesday celebrating the Jewish New Year. They were told by the firm that work was pressing, and that if they remained out they would be dismissed. Yesterday morning they appeared at the factory and refused to leave. The police were called, when the men concluded to leave peacefully.

Complete Returns From Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Oct. 4.—Complete returns from the 164 towns in the state that elected town officers Monday have been received. The Republicans have gained 22 towns over 1893, and the Democrats have lost 18, four towns of the Republican gain coming from the so-called "divided" towns. Five more towns vote no license this year than last. The women's vote has fallen off 700, from about 3700 to 3000.

A Smart Little Girl.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., Oct. 4.—Yesterday was the third birthday of Ruth Cleveland. There was quite a gathering of her little acquaintances. As the weather was rainy, Ruth entertained her friends indoors, and for the time they had almost complete control of Gray Gables. Ruth is enjoying splendid health. Not only does she speak English readily, but she converses in German, as well.

Sunday School Workers at Convention in Lowell.

SPEAKERS ARE MOST PROMINENT IN THE EAST.

They Represent Hundreds of Evangelical Sunday Schools.

The big Sunday school convention in the First Congregational church, which opened for business yesterday, has brought fully 500 delegates from out of town, all parts of the country east of the Alleghanies being represented.

Prominent among the number are some of the best known Sunday school workers, both clergy and laity, and the services and exercises are of special value, help and significance.

As to the local interest it was evidenced by an attendance of over 4000 persons yesterday, nearly half this number being at the evening service.

The actual sessions opened yesterday morning by an address of welcome by Rev. G. F. Kenngott, the pastor, and a response by President Pickles of the Interdenominational Sunday school body.

The secretary, J. N. Dummer, then presented his report which showed a gain of 15,333 members during the year making a total membership of 312,336 in 1821 evangelical sunday schools.

Committees were appointed as follows: Nominating committee, W. L. Floyd, J. M. Pearson, Rev. George F. Kenngott, Rev. C. H. Watson, H. V. Upham; resolutions, Rev. J. N. Dutton, Rev. W. H. Harris, Rev. E. T. Cornick; enrollment, J. N. Dunmer, A. S. Cutler, W. E. French; finance, Rev. F. A. Warfield, T. A. McMaster.

Miss Bertha F. Vella of Boston told of the work done in the primary department, and said there are now 15 primary unions.

Reports were received from various districts; and all showed a very encouraging state of affairs.

It was voted to hold the next annual convention in Fall River. Rev. Everett D. Burr of the Ruggles street church, Boston delivered a very learned address which was received with applause.

In the afternoon the session opened with praise service by Prof. Towner. Rev. Mr. Clark offered prayer, after which the report of the nominating committee was asked for. The committee presented the name of Rev. R. G. Seymour of this city, for president, and he was unanimously elected.

He thanked the convention for honoring him, and said the work of the Sunday school must be kept up, as its prime object is the salvation of human souls.

The working of the home class department was explained by J. N. Dummer.

Rev. Dr. Mudge then offered prayer for the success of the work.

William N. Hartshorn chairman of the executive committee took "The Field and the Work" for his subject and delivered a very instructive address. At the conclusion of the address a reception was held followed by supper which was served in the vestry.

The evening service commenced sharply at 7.30. Prof. Towner directed the song service, which lasted about half an hour. Dr. A. A. Schauffler of Chicago spoke on "the teachers' four best things," which he said were the material, the tools, the best aim in view and the co-worker.

Pres. Seymour and Rev. G. F. Kenngott made a plea for funds and a collection was taken to help defray the expense of the association.

B. F. Jacobs, chairman of the international executive committee delivered a practical address on aggressive Sunday school work.

This was the closing address and with it Mr. Jacobs tendered to the convention the greeting of the New Hampshire convention, which is being held in Lebanon, and which Mr. Jacobs had attended during the day.

PERSONAL.

Mayor Pickman is expected home from his trip to Virginia tomorrow.

WILL ACCEPT NOMINATION.

HON. JOHN E. RUSSELL FINALLY CONSENTS TO RUN

As a Candidate for Governor on Democratic Ticket—Much Against His Will He is Called Again to the Post of Party Duty.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—The conference of Democratic leaders was held at the Parker House last night. Chairman Corcoran presided. After the conference was opened, John E. Russell, "the Shepherd of Leicester," announced that he was not in the best of trim, and that he ought not to be urged to run again. He thought that some younger man, one capable of making a more vigorous campaign than he, should be nominated. The situation was then discussed pretty fully, and with the result that Mr. Russell finally gave his consent to allow the use of his name.

JOHN E. RUSSELL.

Henry Hurlburt of Lynn has been practically decided upon for attorney general and Charles C. Spelman of Springfield for secretary of state.

To a large number of newspaper men, who were anxious to hear the result of the conference, Mr. Russell simply stated that, in the event of a call for him in the convention, he had decided to waive his personal feelings and to again accept the nomination if it should be tendered him by the convention.

An Organizer Charged With Fraud.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Judge Lacombe has made an order for the appointment of a temporary receiver for the affairs of the Colorado River Irrigation company. In the bill of complaint, it was charged that John C. Beatty organized the company for his own selfish ends, and to secure the sale of $7,500,000 of a worthless tract of land in Mexico, to which he did not have even a claim.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral of the late Charlotte Tighe took place this morning from St. Michael's church. A large congregation was present. The high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Gilday. The choir rendered Schmidt's requiem mass. Several beautiful floral offerings were placed on the casket. The bearers were Messrs. M. Quinn, Lawrence Kelly, John Ryan, Robert Tweed, John McKeon and Frank Varley. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, where the committal service was conducted by the celebrant of the mass.

Josephine Conda, aged 30 years, died last evening at her home on Chelmsford street. The funeral took place from O'Donnell's warerooms this afternoon and interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

Annie Michel, infant child of Charles and Annie Michel, died this morning at their home, 294 Middlesex street. The funeral occurred this afternoon and the remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Ellen Watson took place this afternoon from her late home on Adams street and was largely attended. Interment in the Catholic cemetery, where services were conducted by Rev. Fr. Leonard.

The funeral of the late Dea. Abel Coburn occurred this afternoon at two o'clock from his late residence, 246 Varnum avenue, Pawtucketville. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Leland. The bearers were Messrs. Otis and Oliver Coburn and Charles and Joseph Varnum. Interment was in Woodbine cemetery.

Grand Semi-annual Opening.

According to their annual custom, Miss Head and Mrs. Shaw, milliners, at 169 Merrimack street, will devote three days to their opening in order that the ladies may become familiar with the prevailing styles in millinery for the fall and winter. Today, tomorrow and Saturday they will display for inspection their fine line of hats and bonnets. The reputation of this firm for doing fine work is so well established that comment would be superfluous. Their ability to do excellent work is shown by the fact that their business has been steadily increasing while other dealers have been crying "hard times." Their success is due to low prices and the satisfaction they give their customers. Call today and see their display. The store is tastefully decorated with potted plants and ferns. If you have any regard for your pocketbook you will leave your order with Head & Shaw, 169 Merrimack street.

Benevolent Society Officers.

The Ladies Benevolent society of the Highland M. E. church has elected these officers: Pres., Mrs. Dodge; vice presidents, Mrs. Short and Mrs. Hill; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Livingstone; solicitors, Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Maguire; directors, Mrs. Medge, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Duren, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Hodge, Mrs. Varnum, Mrs. Waugh, Mrs. Lombard, Mrs. Falls, Mrs. Maguire, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Murkland, Mrs. Brierley.

Religious Inspiration of Cyclonic Speech

Rev. J. H. Weber, the "cyclone preacher" commenced his work in this city last evening and a large congregation was present in St. Paul's church. The meeting was directed by Rev. F. K. Stratton and after the singing of the doxology the scripture was read.

Mr. Weber was then introduced and delivered a stirring address. He claims to be a reaper rather than a preacher and his faith reaches out for a great harvest.

An Error in Figures.

There is an error in the statement that $23,000 had been appropriated for the Princeton street highway and only $2,000 for the extension of the boulevard. The correct figures are expected to be sent this week.

YOUR WATCH needs cleaning. Bring it to Mower & Sparks, 265 Central Street. We will put it in order and do all that it requires for a year for $1.50. We take our chances; if the watch is smashed the charge will be $1.50 and no more. Watch loaned during repairs. INSURE YOUR WATCH.

HAPPY BRIDES

They Were Claimed in Marriage by Manly Grooms.

Events of Last Night Which Claimed Society's Attention.

The society event of last evening, was the church wedding of two well known, well liked young society people of the Highlands, and as a matter of course the list of invitations sent out included all the prominent people of the city and many guests from abroad.

The bride was Miss Alice Gates White, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gideon F. White of Gates street, and the groom Mr. John Milton Washburn of Lowell, who is in business in Boston. The ceremony was performed in the Eliot church with the Rev. Dr. J. M. Greene as officiating clergyman. Precisely at six o'clock the bridal party entered the audience room, from the vestibule on the left, to the strains of Lohengrin and proceeded up the aisle, the bride, who came in on her father's arm being proceeded by the ushers Mr. Royal W. Gates, Mr. Henry Kittredge Gates, Mr. Louis H. Swift, Dr. George H. Jennison, and Mr. F. W. Norton of Nashua, N. H., Mr. H. U. True of Boston and Mr. Joseph E. Gates of Bedford, Mass. Then came little Miss Margaret Smith, as maid in waiting, and Miss Harriet A. White, maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Almira M. Whitted, Miss Blanche Cadwell and Miss Dula Wallace of Nashua, N. H., Miss Marcella Whiteside, Miss Mabel H. Stevens of Lowell.

At the altar, the groom accompanied by Mr. George H. Sargent of Andover, formerly of this city, met the party, and standing before the beloved pastor took part in the responsive marriage ceremony, and during which Handel's Largo was played on the organ. The scene at the altar was a beautiful one, for the bride was richly gowned in cream duchess satin, trimmed with duchess lace, wore the conventional veil, and carried bride's roses, while the bridesmaids on her left wore beautiful gowns of delicate shades. After the prayer and benediction, the bridal party left the room to the merry peal of Mendelssohn's march. The ushers then conducted the immediate relatives to their carriages, the other guests remaining seated in the pews which were tied with twined laurel.

The altar and platform were banked with clematis, ferns, holly and foliage plants of dark green, making a beautiful back ground for the more beautiful subject. The choir rail was also screened with foliage.

The newly married couple were driven to the bride's home where a family reception was held during the evening. Here the arrangements were in keeping with the elaborate church ceremony.

Among the out of town guests were; Lieut. Patch of the U.S.N.; Mr. and Mrs. Solon W. Whitted of Nashua, N. H.; Mr. and Mr. C. A. Robey of Nashua, N. H.; Miss Kathleen Robey, Miss Marion Robey of Nashua, and Mr. E. F. Quinlan of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Washburn will be at home at 11 Belmont street, on Thursdays in December.

Richards—Pettengill.

A charming home wedding was that at the bride's home on Mount Hope street, in Pawtucketville, last evening, when Miss Evelyn Pettengill became the bride of Mr. William C. Richards, Rev. G. F. Kenngott officiated standing in an alcove while the bridal party stood under a canopy of white lace, asparagus and evergreen. The bride looked as sweet as all brides do on such auspicious occasions, and she was gowned in white silk, with satin ribbons, and carried bridal roses and maiden hair ferns. Miss Lenora Pettengill, the bride's sister, and Miss Nellie Richards, the groom's sister, were the bridesmaids, and their gowns were of white silk, and they had bouquets of Jnqueminot roses.

The ushers were Robert S. Fulton and H. F. Hamilton of Newport, Vt. When the bridal party entered the parlor, Miss Alice Secton played the Swedish wedding march, and during the ceremony the "Flower Song."

A reception followed and many friends of the happy couple attended, among the number being Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Elkins of Newport, Vt., and Master Clayton Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Hall of Bedford, Vt., Messrs. Hamilton and Chamberlain, of Newport, Vt. The groom's favors to the bridesmaids were silver pins, and the ushers wore bride's roses tied with a lover's knot of white silk. Mr. and Mrs. Richards have left for parts unknown, but will be "at home" at 236 Cabot street, after Nov. 15th. No cards.

A Double Wedding.

Of the many weddings which have occurred here for a long time double weddings have been almost a rarity. But one did occur last evening, and accordingly it was quite an event. They occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Coote, 261 Andover street. One bride was Miss Isabella Anna Coote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coote, and the groom Mr. Edward W. Richardson. The other bride was Miss Anna Jane Murdy of Wakefield, who has been the guest of Miss Coote for three weeks, preparatory to leaving for a visit to her home in Sweden. The groom was Mr. Olaf Edward Atkinson, also of Wakefield, who, desirous of keeping his sweetheart for "better for worse," wanted the ceremony performed at the same time, which was done. The clergymen were Rev. Dr. Coote of New York, cousin of Miss Coote, assisted by Rev. Hugh Montgomery. Both brides wore white silk gowns, with lace trimmings and bouquet of white roses. The maids of honor were Miss Bertha Halstead and Miss Anna Coote. Miss Coote, the bride, carried a fan set with pearls used by her mother at her wedding 40 years ago. A reception followed during the evening, and congratulations were many and equally bestowed upon happy grooms and brides. Late in the evening both started on wedding trips. Among the guests were Archie A. Boomhower of Worcester, Dr. James Coote of New York, Miss Sarah J. Coote of Worcester, and Mrs. Samuel Johnson of Haverhill.

Mulno-Ebert.

The wedding of Miss Edith L. Ebert, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Ebert, to Mr. Walter Mulno, son of Supt. Robert Mulno of the Lowell cemetery, at the home of the bride on Branch street yesterday afternoon was one of the prettiest of afternoon affairs. A large party of acquaintances of the happy couple were there to witness the ceremony and to offer them congratulations during the reception from 4 till 6. Rev. L. C. Manchester of St. John's church read the full Episcopal service, with the ring, and the bride was given away by her mother. The bride's gown was of white brocaded satin and she wore white roses.

The bridesmaid was Miss Avis Blaisdell, and the groomsman was Mr. Harry Mulno. The maid of honor was Miss Mabel Wiggins and the page Master Harold Wiggin. The ushers were Messrs. Edward Dennett, John Kilpatrick, David Staniels and Herbert L. Mulno.

The house was prettily decorated with autumn foliage and wild flowers, and refreshments were served by a caterer. Among the guests from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. Laton, Mr. and Mrs. Staniels and Mrs. George Ebert of Nashua, and the Misses Lucy and Lillian Mulno of Andover. The number of wedding gifts was very large, and their value considerable.

A Double Event.

The pleasant occasion of a tenth anniversary of marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Skinner of 691 Middlesex street and the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Stevens of Chelsea, Vt., brought together a goodly company of friends last evening. Mrs. Stevens was Miss Bernice Skinner, a daughter of Mr. Skinner by his first marriage, and she was married on Tuesday at the groom's home. The evening was spent socially, interspersed with a musical program, in which Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. C. P. Stevens, Miss Felicita Reno, Mrs. Fred Baron and Miss Sarah Bradford took part. Both the newly married couple and the host and hostess received valuable remembrances.

HOW FOSS PULLED WIRES.

HE SECURES THE NOMINATION DESPITE THE MAJORITY.

He Gave Political I. O. U's. to Unpledged Delegates For Their Support in the Convention—Walsh Was the Choice of the Majority—Foss Did Not Control His Own Committee for the Normal School—The A. P. A. Wants Control of the Governor's Council.

Ether S. Foss has been chosen by the republicans to enter the senatorial contest against Hon. Peter J. Brady. Mr. Foss was disappointed in his ambition to become a license commissioner. He was unfortunate enough to get into a cuide sac and his appeal to the legislature for a special act to get him out was in vain. He resigned his position as representative, having greater solicitude for the proper application of the liquor law than for representing his constituents in the Great and General court.

It is not a mark of gratitude on the part of an office holder to resign on the slightest pretext. When Mr. Foss accepted the nomination for representative, his constituents supposed he was going to serve the full term. But something more lucrative caught his eye, he yearned for a big pull among the liquor dealers of the city, for the power of granting or revoking licenses, but neither his prompt resignation nor his inordinate desire to become a license commissioner could move the legislature to pass a special act in his favor.

It was fortunate that good sense and sound judgment prevailed to prevent the establishment of a pernicious precedent such as the qualification of Foss by a special act would have been.

Mr. Foss came out of the whole affair discredited and disappointed. He had incurred the displeasure of his constituents by his futile efforts to secure appointment on the license commission and his utter disregard for their feelings and their interests.

Now he comes to ask higher honors at their hands; but how can they tell that he will serve throughout the senatorial term if elected? He has proven himself a time server, a chronic office seeker and a mercenary politician. Can the republicans of the district be expected to give him their cordial support after such a betrayal of their confidence? Not likely. But for the efforts of Mr. Foss to get to be license commissioner, the constitution of the local commission would have been different and some of the republican candidates realize and remember this.

They are in waiting for Mr. Foss at the polls. Their friends will oppose Foss. The republicans of Ward Four are opposed to him, as was shown by its delegation to the convention. He could not carry his own ward. As a matter of fact Mr. Walsh would have been the candidate had not Mr. Foss gone around among the unpledged delegates, and by various political wiles, by promises of favors to come and by personal political I. O. U's, signed, sealed and delivered, induced them to support him in the convention.

His nomination was unanimous we are told. Yes, the old time worn motion of making unanimous a nomination that was won only by two votes out of a total of 56, was carried of course. A similar motion was carried at the councillor convention the other day after a free rough and tumble fight such as has not been seen in this city since the days of Angel Gabriel. The motion to make Mr. Foss's nomination unanimous was carried, but did that make it unanimous? Not at all. There were present a majority in that convention who knew that if fairplay prevailed, Mr. Walsh would have been the nominee.

A republican who favored Walsh was seen after the convention and stated that Foss manipulated the wires in a disgraceful way. He had brought the greatest pressure upon men who were to vote for Walsh. "He worked upon them and got every bit of influence he could command to get them pledged to vote for him in the convention. Had Mr. Walsh used the same methods he could have beaten Foss by at least ten votes. I tell you Foss is not the choice of the republican majority, he will not poll the full republican strength and I here and now predict his defeat and the election of Hon. Peter J. Brady."

Had Senator Brady heard this statement it would have warmed the cockles of his heart. Yet it was a mere expression of a feeling which is very prevalent among republicans throughout the city.

It is absolutely necessary in a nominating speech to say something in praise of the candidate even if the truth must be considerably stretched. And so when Larkin T. Trull arose to nominate Mr. Foss, he misstated the facts when he said Foss did most of the work of bringing the normal school here. He was a member of the committee on finance and failed to control that committee in Lowell's favor. Senator Brady obtained the support of several committees besides those of which he was a member and Larkin T. Trull who was not in the legislature at all did much more work for the normal school than did Ether S. Foss.

***

The delegates to the third district councillor convention had even a worse fight than was witnessed at the councillor convention in this city. It was a trial of strength between the A. P. A. and the straight liberal republicans. For eleven ballots and during seven hours the battle raged in Wesleyan hall, Boston, and then an adjournment was taken without action. The A. P. A., candidate was R. S. Burnham of Revere and the regular republican candidate who was the most formidable opponent was George N. Swallow of Charlestown. The fights of the A. P. A. in all the councillor conventions indicate that the darklanternites want to have full control of the governor's council if they cannot control the governor.

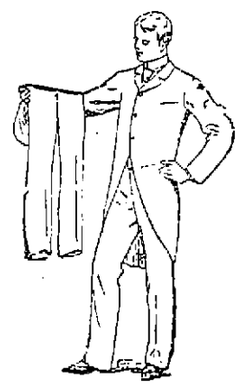
Frank Herbert was arrested this morning by Detectives Laflamme and Allen for stealing $18 from his boarding mistress. Herbert boards on Columbus avenue and it is alleged took the money from a table on which it had been placed by the owner.



No recent introduction in clothing has met with such instantaneous success as the new brown and brown mixed fabrics.

These new effects will be found with the best merchant tailors, but were brought out too late to be made up by the ordinary ready-made clothiers.

With the exception of the several lots of Brown Serge and Cheviot Suits, which we have received from Rogers, Peet & Co., of New York, we do not know of any others to be had ready-made.

A chance here to get strictly custom styles before they become common.

Songs of the Army Sung in the Campaign.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The Japanese legation has recovered a budget of official news by the last mail which is of special interest. It gives extracts of the war songs written by Prince Airsugana and sung by the Japanese troops in their march toward Pekin.

They breathe great spite against the Chinese and say the time has come to plant the flag of the Rising Sun on the walls of Pekin. It urges the Japanese to strike down and chastise the Chinese barbarians and stigmatizes the Chinese army as one of cowards. The soldiers are called are undisciplined rabble and their arms are as fine ladies in a picture. The refrain of the songs is to march and fire on the Chinese as long as breath lasts.

The songs are sung to popular music and are taken up all over the island kingdom.

The Japanese minister of the interior has issued an edict stating that the war will not retard improvements in the empire. The war account must be kept separate, and at no time shall its expenditures overbalance those for improvements. The construction of railways is also to be continued.

Excitement in London Today Over the Cabinet Meeting to Consider Madagascan Troubles.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Excitement prevails in diplomatic circles today over the special meeting of the foreign cabinet called for tomorrow. It is publicly announced that the meeting is to consider protection to British subjects in China, and the French government says its relations with Great Britain were never more amicable.

A state of blockade of Madagascan ports has been declared and it is feared that England and France are in a diplomatic muddle over it.

More Land Bought for the Driven Wells.

The city of Lowell has recently bought of Samuel P. Perham and Albert P. Perham 17 acres of meadow land adjoining that where the city is now sinking driven wells. It is the intention to extend operations up the River Meadow valley and beyond the city line, as the purchased land is in Chelmsford.

CLEAR THE decks for action.

CONGRESSMEN MORSE and Walker are slated for another trip to congress.

CORBETT HAS a big appetite to attempt to digest six pugilists in a single week.

HON. GEORGE M. STEARNS of Chicopee is to take up his residence in Brookline.

IF THE state election be not properly conducted it will not be for lack of precinct officers.

BOWLING, cricket and whist playing are the games which hold the attention of the majority at present.

CHINA SEEMS doomed to defeat. She anticipates her doom and rushes to meet it with the Japanese army close behind her.

LAST SUNDAY was the first in the history of New York when the liquor stores were closed. The drought was horrifying.

SO THE independent movement in New York state has subsided. There will be but one ticket and that will be the winner.

THE GREAT sin of the New York constitutional convention seems to have been to cheat the majority out of their political rights.

THE REPUBLICAN party of this state is fast succumbing to a disease with which it was once attacked in the early fifties and which is now known as Apaphobia.

HENRY CABOT LODGE will not be in a hurry to throw off his coat and enter the brunt of a political battle. He has been taught a salient lesson in the seventh district.

HON. JOHN E. RUSSELL, it is stated, has decided to accept the honor of again being nominated for governor on the democratic ticket. He is the only logical candidate.

THE LOTTIE COLLINS show was a disappointment to those who have heard her name associated with the Ta Ra Ra Boom de Re craze. Lottie will have to get a move on or she will soon be a back number.

THE LEXOW committee is after the police that have been using their clubs too freely. The committee is adducing evidence to show that the police are exempt from all laws and that they can kill, shoot, murder with impunity.

ACCORDING TO the provisions adopted by the New York constitutional convention the political effect of the population of New York city is to be curtailed so that a party which is 50,000 in the minority in the state may control the state legislature. That is a blow at majority rule just as minority representation is in the city of Boston and elsewhere.

JAPAN, FROM all accounts, seems to be preparing for a triumphal march on Pekin. The fall of the Chinese capital before the Japanese forces would be an era in Oriental history beside which the Hegira would sink into insignificance. Civilization is always advanced when a civilized power vanquishes a barbarous one in an effort to promote the welfare of humanity by establishing just forms of government and abolishing the barbarous codes.

MINORITY REPRESENTATION FOR MIDDLESEX COUNTY.

The present commissioners are J. Henry Read of Westford, Samuel O. Upham of Waltham, and Francis Bigelow of Natick.

These are the three farmers who constitute the close corporation known as the commissioners of Middlesex county.

It is very strange that the democrats cannot get a man to break up this triumvirate. If it cannot be done by ordinary methods, and it may be impossible to overcome the ring for years on account of its power of perpetuating itself, then let the principle of minority representation be applied.

If it has such magificent results in Boston why should it not work equally well in Middlesex county? It is time a democrat had a place upon the county commission. All up for a man who can break up the obnoxious county ring.

THE CHALLENGE issued through the Boston Advertiser by Rev. Fr. O'Brien to the leaders of the A. P. A., is a sweeping one. The Rev. Dr. Dunn who would set down all Catholics as ipso facto disloyal citizens will have an opportunity to prove his statement if he is not a complete coward as he is presumed to be by virtue of having made the charge. It is hoped that the commission of Protestant gentlemen will undertake to decide whether there is anything in the teachings of the Catholic church inconsistent with the highest patriotism and the most exacting loyalty to this country. If Fr. O'Brien's challenge be accepted the result will be to disprove the false charge against Catholics, upon which the very existence of the A.P.A. is based.

THE ABSORPTION of a lot of smaller or moribund clubs by the Vespers is a significant event in the history of clubdom in Lowell. The Vespers after gobbling up the Country club gathers in the M. M. A which has been dragging out a dreary existence for want of courage to die for the past ten years.

THE RAILROAD commissioners will hold a public hearing on the subject of railroad fenders on October 22. What seems to be needed is a car attachment which will hit a person getting in the way and throw him or her into a commodious featherbed to be carried for that purpose.

LORD HAWKE and his cricketers will be beaten it appears by the Massachusetts team. His Lordship did not dream of the grit of Massachusetts men though they've beaten Johnny Bull and may do so still again.

HE TURNED THE TIDE.

A Fakir Whose Red Salve Proved to Be a Great Thing.

The fakir had opened up business on the public square of a southern town and was going on to tell how his "red salve" would cure toothache, neuralgia, backache, rheumatism, sprains and most everything else under the sun, when a big and ugly looking colored man pressed his way into the crowd and said:

"I dun bought a box of dat stuff of yo' ober to Augusta, an it hain't wuth shucks!"

"What! What's that you're saying?" demanded the fakir as he stopped short in his appeal to a suffering public.

"Dat stuff hain't no better'n so much mud!" growled the colored man.

"Sir," exclaimed the fakir, "you have publicly accused me of being a swindler, and the case is one which must be thoroughly investigated! I warrant my red salve to cure certain ailments or the money will be refunded. What was your ailment?"

"Pain, sah!"

"Where was that pain?"

"Down betwixt my shoulders."

"And you used the salve according to the directions?"

"Yes, sah."

"And you've used it all up, and the pain is still there?"

"De pain am still wuss, I reckon."

"Then my red salve has skipped a cog, and I must refund your money. First, however, let me make an examination. Come up here till I run my hand down behind your collar and see where the pain is."

The colored man had on a woolen shirt, which was open at the throat, and he bent his head and let the fakir slide his hand down. The latter felt around for a minute and then withdrew his hand and held a bent and rusty tenpenny nail up to view and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, is it any wonder my celebrated red salve couldn't take away the pain with this nail sticking into his back? One box of it pulled the nail over half way out, and yet he declares that I'm a liar and a robber! I think I felt at least three other nails, besides a pipe stem, a hairpin, a wishbone and a gimlet, and yet he has the face to come here and demand his money back! Does any one ever hear"—

"Whar dat nail cum from?" shouted the colored man as he danced around.

"Drawn out of your lungs by the use of one box of my world renowned red salve, sir."

"An no' a-comin?"

"Heaps more, and yet you charge me with being a robber and murderer! I guarantee to refund the money in every case where a cure is not effected, and therefore I now tender"——

"No, sah—no, sah!" shouted the negro as he flung his arms about in great excitement. "I doan' dun want my money back! I dun wants another box of dat stuff to bring out all de razzors, jackknives, cotton choppers an corn plows dat's got lodged in my system doorin de las' 20 y'ars, an if one box won't do it doan' you dun leave dis town till I'ze got fo' or five! Gimme dat salve, an you, boy Hiram, cum along an rub it on an lookout fur nails an splinters workin out"—Detroit Free Press.

ENGLAND'S CARE

At the Prospect of a New Naval Power.

FRANCE IS MAKING SOME CRAFTY MOVES.

Looking Toward Cutting Off Commerce in War Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The state department has been very fully advised from time to time by our representatives abroad of the inception and growth of the trouble between France and Great Britain relative to Madagascar. Efforts have also been made at intervals to induce our government to take sides in the matter, based on our large commercial interests in the island, for, surprising as it may seem to persons who know of the existence of Madagascar from the geographies, the United States controls three-tenths of the trade of this great island, which, in territorial area, quite equals France.

For years all of this commerce has been more or less hampered in growth by a standing dispute between France and the Hovas government, touching the recognition of consuls. The French claim the right under treaty to control all of the foreign relations of Madagascar, and include in their claim a right to issue exequaturs to consuls. The Hovas government held that the consuls' functions pertained only to commerce and were not connected with foreign relations. For this reason it insisted upon controlling their recognition.

Duties of Consuls Interfered With.

Things came to such a pass finally that consuls had to be provided with dual credentials, and even then they were sometimes not permitted to exercise their functions. The United States has had much difficulty in this respect, and our present consul at Tamatave is acting now under a provisional and unsatisfactory arrangement.

The British and Germans have not relished the claims of France in this respect and have indirectly sought to make the United States take the lead in repudiating them, though so far without success, as our state department has steadily abstained from interference.

Aside from this question of commerce, always of importance in British eyes, the principal reason for British concern in Madagascar, as it is understood here, lies in the fear that France is about to establish a new Gibraltar in the Indian ocean that would in time of war give her the power to totally cut off commerce between India, Australia, the Cape settlements and England.

France Strength'ning Madagascar.

Already the French have been busily engaged in making a fortress and naval station at Diego Suarez, on the northern extremity of Madagascar. Here is a magnificent harbor, almost landlocked, and even at present quite as impregnable as Gibraltar itself. Making this harbor their base, a few French cruisers might so guard the Indian sea as to make British commerce impossible.

And the French are reaching out. They want more land around Diego Suarez to extend their fortifications, and they want Fort Dauphin at the southern extremity of Madagascar and several points between on the eastern and western coasts.

The British believe that these fortifications seriously threaten their East African possessions, and they are disposed to protest, but they find themselves much hampered, for when Great Britain annexed Zanzibar, lying to the west across Mozambique channel, they did so through an understanding with France that the latter should have a free hand to deal with Madagascar.

Diplomatic Circles Are Watching

the French English contention over Madagascar as possibly foreshadowing a conflict for supremacy in Africa and the establishment there of an empire similar to the British empire in India.

A member of the diplomatic corps points out recent significant action indicating the basis of this belief. Last May Great Britain entered into a secret alliance by which it secured control over the Congo Free State in the heart of Africa. The arrangement was made at Brussels with the King of Belgium, who has been instrumental in exploring and developing the Congo country.

With this acquisition, Great Britain secured the middle link between her colonies in the south of Africa and those of Egypt on the north. In effect, it established Great Britain as supreme from the Mediterranean to the Cape of Good Hope. This belt of country extended north and south through the middle of Africa, except along a short stretch of the lower Nile, and as to this, English engineers reported that the portions of the river within British dominion could be so affected that the entire route of the stream could be controlled by the British.

The result of the Brussels arrangement was to give hopes in England and fears in France that the British empire of Africa was about to be accomplished in the same quiet way that the British dominion in Asia had been effected.

France on the Watch.

The incident has, however, aroused France to the strengthening of her hold on African soil if she hopes to head off England's purpose of securing commercial control of the country by establishing an English belt from the north to the south.

It was only four months ago that the British arrangement at Brussels was effected, and it is within the past few weeks that the French protest caused it to be vacated. Now comes the French move in Madagascar, which has caused such agitation and talk of war in London and Paris.

It is not, says the diplomat, any mere contention over Madagascar, but a part of the great contention between Great Britain and France for commercial control and political empire over Africa. For this reason, the present contest is regarded as affecting not only Madagascar but the future of the Dark Continent.

Nothing In It.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Inquiries made at the foreign office late elicited the information that the calling of a cabinet council has no connection whatever with the meeting of the French cabinet on the same day.

The relations between Great Britain and France have certainly been strained during the past six months, since the attacks of the French press upon the Marquis of Dufferin, the British ambassador at Paris. Numerous colonial questions have also given rise to friction.

Although the government ministers would be glad to seize upon an occasion to discuss this matter, the cabinet would not have been summoned but for the dangerous appearance of the situation in China.

The Marquis of Dufferin is still in the north of Ireland. If the relations with France had been the cause of summoning a cabinet council, Lord Dufferin would certainly have come to London to consult with Lord Rosebery, the premier.

The Times, in a leader, points to the fact that neither the Marquis of Dufferin nor Baron de Courcel, the new French ambassador, is at his post, as proof that there are no serious matters between the two governments in dispute.

No Cause For Alarm.

BELFAST, Oct. 4.—The Marquis of Dufferin, British ambassador to France, is enjoying a vacation at his Belfast seat. To a reporter he said he saw no reason for immediate alarm in the relations between Great Britain and France.

BODIES WASHED ASHORE

Give Evidence of Many Wrecks During the Recent Southern Hurricane.

KEY WEST, Oct. 4. — More than 50 human bodies have been washed up along the reefs near here in the last few days. Many wrecks have been sighted near the Florida coast by the steamers which have arrived here. It may be that the bodies are from vessels wrecked by the recent hurricane in the Gulf of Mexico, and have been carried to Key West by the Gulf stream.

The steamer El Rio reported that on Sept. 26 she sighted a large steamer ashore eight miles northeast of Alligator reef. The vessel seemed to be a foreign tramp steamer.

The Osseo brought to Key West the first and second mates of the bark Wandering Chief, from Belize to Havre, which was totally wrecked on Elbow reef. The two men were the only survivors.

Most of the crew of the bark Brandon were lost when she was wrecked on Crocker's reef on Sept. 24. She was bound from Ship Island, Miss., to Liverpool.

The Morgan line steamer El Morro, recently arrived at New Orleans, signalled a large ship, bottom up, north of Alligator reef and a large barkentine well up on the reef, whose names she could not ascertain.

Professor David Swing Dead.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Professor David Swing died last evening. He was taken sick about a week ago with gastric fever, which developed into acute jaundice. Professor Swing was born in Cincinnati 65 years ago. He accepted a call to occupy the pulpit of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Chicago, in 1886. From that time to his death he held a place in the popular favor of the western metropolis. His originality in thought and his liberality in the interpretation of a creed attracted much attention.

Flaw in the Indictment.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Oct. 4.—In the United States court the case of Dr. J. C. Moore, charged with the embezzlement of funds of the Commonwealth National bank of that city, of which he was president, was brought to a sudden termination owing to a fatal error in the indictment. The defense claimed that there was no place in the indictment where the bank was properly designated. Judge Webb instructed the jury to render a verdict for the defendant and Dr. Moore was discharged.

Children Kidnapped.

SALEM, Mass., Oct. 4.—Four men forcibly kidnapped from the residence of Mrs. A. H. Gledden yesterday her two children, and Mrs. Gledden claims that her husband was one of the men. Several years ago Mrs. Gledden's husband sued her for divorce, but was defeated, and she was given the custody of the children.

Whipping Post For Child Beaters.

ALBANY, Oct. 4.—Commodore Gerry addressed the final session of the convention of the humane society in favor of the introduction of the whipping post into the state of New York, to be used especially in the punishment of those who are cruel to children. Dr. Hendricks, a Catholic priest, spoke in the same line.

Endorsed by Two Parties.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—At the county convention of the New York state Democracy last night, John W. Goff was endorsed as a candidate for mayor. His name was presented by ex-Mayor Grace. Mr. Goff was also nominated for mayor at the meeting last night of the German-American Reform union.

The Tennessee Vets.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Oct. 4.—At the first regular session of the Army of the Tennessee, General Dodge presided. Following General Dodge's remarks, General Howard addressed the meeting. The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were read, and the convention soon afterward adjourned.

Georgia's State Election.

ATLANTA, Oct. 4.—The Populists will probably increase their vote over that of two years ago. Atkinson, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, is being badly scratched in some localities by Confederate veterans, but the state is carried by Democrats by reduced majorities.

Gove For Congress.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—Jesse M. Gove, the original Blaine man, was yesterday nominated for congress by acclamation by the delegates to the Ninth district Republican convention, which was held in the headquarters of the Republican city committee.

Died of Typhoid Fever.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 4.—Drs. Reynolds and Drexel yesterday performed an autopsy on Chester Peck of Newton, the last of that family to die. No trace of poison was found, and the cause of death was ascertained to be typhoid fever.

President's Fall Is Predicted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—News from Area, Venezuela, announces that that town and Cayo are besieged by revolutionists. President Crespo is preparing for a flight to Europe, where his family has already gone.

Saved the Cargo.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—During a gale the lobster smack Edith M. Thompson was driven ashore on Ragged island. Her crew got off safely and saved the cargo of 2500 lobsters, but the craft went to pieces.

MANY WRECKS

Mark the Path of the Great Cyclone

THAT SWEPT THROUGH LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

Six Persons Killed and $1,000,000 Worth of Property Lost.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 4.—Tuesday evening's cyclone grows in destructiveness as the details are gathered, and the sum total of the damage wrought by the wreck is yet untold. The day had been hot and sultry, and its culmination was the storm which wrecked business houses, filled the streets with debris, killed many and injured others.

The first intimation of the impending catastrophe was when the cyclone struck. All electric lights were extinguished, and the darkened streets were filled with flying roofs, walls and debris of all kinds. It swept up from the southwest, striking the city near the insane asylum, the mad ward of which was demolished. There Dr. Ingate was killed and several inmates seriously injured.

It then passed on to the penitentiary, a portion of which was wrecked. A convict was killed and several guards were injured. The terrible work continued toward the main part of the city, and its path was strewn with debris of wrecked buildings, tangled telegraph and telephone wires and fallen trees that had withstood the tempests of many decades. Many residences were more or less damaged, roofs blown away and walls partly demolished.

Great Damage to Buildings.

The next marked damage was when the storm struck the Martin building, occupied by the Arkansas Methodist church and several lawyers' offices. From that point east the scene that met the view of the vast throngs of people who gathered at the scene yesterday was beyond description. Some of the most substantial brick structures of the district were razed to the ground.

The wind was followed by a drenching downpour of rain, lasting for nearly an hour and keeping nearly everyone within doors, so that the real extent of the damage could not be ascertained at the time. Telephone wires in the business portion were all blown down, and communication by that means was impossible.

As soon as the rain had ceased, somewhat, the darkened and debris filled streets were crowded with the excited populace, who picked their way about with a desire to lend assistance where it was needed. It is a matter of common wonder that hundreds were not killed, for no storm in the history of the country surpasses it in destructive powers.

The police were on the scene with an increased force, and everything was done to restrain the disorderly element from creating a disturbance. The saloons that were not destroyed were ordered closed at midnight. The patrol wagon was pressed into service and many of the injured were taken to headquarters, where their wounds were attended to.

Wires Blown Down In All Directions.

The storm did not last more than three minutes. The wires operating the fire alarm system were all blown down, and there was constant fear of fire, but fortunately none occurred. Such a disaster has not visited Little Rock in its history.

The losses will aggregate nearly $1,000,000. The damage at the state insane asylum is $200,000. Beside Dr. Ingate, assistant superintendent, who was killed beneath falling walls, three attendants and two patients are missing. It is believed they were buried under the walls.

The state penitentiary sustained a loss of $10,000. A convict named James was killed and several others injured. Jackson Boyd and a 3-year-old child were crushed to death in their home by a falling wall. When taken from the ruins the child was clasped in its father's arms. Both were dead. Everything is confusion and it is impossible to give losses in detail. Six persons are known to have been killed and others are missing, probably buried in the debris.

Offices Filled by Clergymen.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—The Maine Baptist Educational Society elected the following officers: Rev. D. H. S. Burrage, president; Rev. J. H. Burrows, vice president; Rev. C. E. Owen, secretary; Rev. W. H. Spencer, treasurer; Professor E. W. Hall, auditor. The proposition to form a Young People's union was voted down.

Woodbury Had a Big Lead.

RUTLAND, Vt., Oct. 4.—The following is the result of the official canvass of votes for governor presented at the opening of the legislature: Woodbury, Republican, 42,658; Smith, Democrat, 13,142; Whitman, Prohibitionist, 461; McGinnis, Populist, 739. Woodbury's plurality, 29,514; Woodbury's majority, 28,311.

Paid Two Dividends.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 4.—At the annual meeting of the Stark Manufacturing company the old board of officers was re-elected. The treasurer's report showed the total product for the year to be 11,175,000 pounds. Two dividends of 2 and 4 per cent were paid.

Coming In November.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The name of the new Austrian minister to the United States is Mr. von Hengelmuller. He will reach here early in November, at which time the present minister, Chevalier de Tavera, leaves for his new post in Brazil.

Rebate Vouchers Abolished.

PEORIA, Ills., Oct. 4.—The Whisky trust directors have decided to abolish the rebate vouchers system, the new order of things to take effect today. The directors are still in session and important developments are expected.

ITALIAN ARRESTED.

Suspected by Police of Being the Murderer of Mrs. Chambers.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 4. — Lawrence A. Keegan has been placed under arrest, charged with the murder of Mrs. Emily Chambers in Scituate on Thursday last. He was taken into custody at his home, 62 Dexter street, about noon yesterday. He was turned over to High Sheriff White in the afternoon.

Keegan is careworn, and although he has held up well under the strain of evidence that points strongly to him, there is now but the faintest doubt but that he knows more about Mrs. Emily Catherine Chambers, the murdered woman, than he desires to divulge. He denies having seen the woman since early in September, when she asked him to sign pension documents for her.

It is a positive fact that he has seen her since. He has been with the murdered woman no less than three times within two weeks. Two women and one man have seen Keegan in Mrs. Chambers' company since early in September. The evidence is tightening around Keegan in an alarming manner.

Keegan will plead not guilty, and will attempt to prove an alibi. An effort was made last night to persuade Keegan to make a confession, but he persisted in his denial of guilt. He says he never was in Scituate and does not know the roads in that section. He claims to have been drunk on Wednesday and Thursday; that he can prove that he was in local saloons all the afternoon; that he went to supper and retired between 1 and 1:30 o'clock.

Although he has contradicted himself in minor details, he persists in general points and refuses to make any other statement.

Keegan is well known in town as a genteel loafer and has been sober only occasionally in the past 10 years.

Police Captured a Prize.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—Sergeant Brickley ended a long chase last night by landing in the station house C. D. N. Jones and Lawrence G. Skaucke, charged with the long and successful operation of a first-class policy shop and lottery place at 179 Washington street. They have carried on the business of the Empire State Lottery company, of the Guarantee Loan and Trust company and the Bankers' Mutual company, all of which are alleged to be fake concerns. A basketful of lottery tickets and all the office paraphernalia were seized.

Will Try Once More.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 4.—Another attempt is to be made to end the great textile strike here. The state board of arbitration will convene, and representatives of both manufacturers and strikers will again face each other in a last effort to settle by harmonious action the great controversy. The basis of settlement will be, if at all, a compromise.

Struck by an Electric.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 4.—While on the way to the races, Dudley Miller of the Syracuse Post was knocked from an electric car by one passing in the opposite direction and was probably fatally injured.

Went to the Bottom.

TAXES.

Collector's Notice.

TAX LIST FOR 1894,

With instructions to collect in the manner prescribed by the Statutes of the Commonwealth and the Ordinances of the City of Lowell, the sums assessed by them to the persons named therein, and he is now ready to receive payment of said Taxes at his office in City Hall.

When a Poll Tax only is assessed, the Tax is due, and if not paid forthwith, the Collector will proceed to collect the Tax as directed by the General Statutes.

SUMMONS, bearing costs, will be issued against delinquent Poll and Personal Tax Payers on or about November 1st.

INTEREST at the rate of seven per cent. per annum will be charged upon all Taxes which remain unpaid October 20, 1894 until the same shall be paid; and such interest shall be added to and considered a part of said Taxes. Poll Taxes are assessed on every male inhabitant above the age of 20 years. On undivided real estate each heir is liable for the whole tax. An error in the name of the person taxed does not defeat the collection of the Tax. Each partner is liable for the whole Tax assessed under the partnership name.

The assessors are now distributing Tax Bills. If any taxable inhabitant, by removing his residence since the first day of May, or from any cause, should not receive his Tax Bill, he must consider the Tax demanded by this notice, and a new bill will be made out on application at the office of the City Treasurer and Collector of Taxes if a Tax has been assessed.

All who preserve their Tax Bills and bring them when they come to pay, will save the time of making a new bill and facilitate the business of the office

THE RATE OF TAXATION FOR 1894 IS $17.40 ON $1000.

Office Hours: From 9 o'clock a.m. to 3 p.m.

For the convenience of the Tax paying public the office of the Collector will be open in the evening as follows: Mondays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, from Oct. 1 to Oct. 13, inclusive, 7 to 8 o'clock p. m. Mondays, Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, from Oct. 15 to Oct. 20, inclusive, from 7 to 9 o'clock p. m.

☞ Look for your Tax Bill at your place of residence May 1st, 1894, and bring it with you.

MRS. PARAN STEVENS.

Knows the Art of Free Advertising in the Social Circle.

Mrs. Paran Stevens still continues to create a stir. Besides entertaining a party of European nobility, she had trouble with a tradesman. Judge Baker has decided that the entering of judgment against Mrs. Paran Stevens last week was an error, and he has revoked it and replaced the case on the docket. A tradesman sued her for about $10. Her lawyer was engaged on the Hamilton divorce suit and he was not aware that the case was to be called. Mrs. Stevens claims that she did not know that she owed the man, and that he had not sent the bill, hence she was in ignorance of her indebtedness.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Stevens called at the tradesman's store and a stormy scene ensued. Crowds gathered, and Newport was treated to another painful sensation.

DEATH'S CRUEL BLOW.

It Robbed a Young Man of His Mother Even While His First Care Was for Her Comfort.

A sad incident happened just previous to the performance of "Wang" Monday night. One of the male members of the company while eating his supper at the Farragut house, received the telegram. He opened the envelope, and while reading it was seen by those near by to turn deathly pale.

They inquired the trouble, but he was unable to answer. He handed them the telegram and they read the words that told him his mother had died that day. Those who were present say the sight was a pitiable one.

The young man went to his room, sat down, unable to say or do anything. Finally one of his friends tried to console him, and wrote a message home.

Only that evening the young man had written to his mother, and the letter was yet in his pocket; he had not had time to mail it. The letter contained the greater portion of his salary for last week, and he was sending it home.

Tribute to the Late James Dempsey.

Editor LOWELL SUN:

Dear Sir—Noticing in Tuesday's issue of THE SUN the item of the death of Mr. James Dempsey of Pawtucket, R. I., I desire to say Mr. Dempsey had been in attendance at the meetings of the N. E. Cotton Manufacturers' Association held last week at the Crawford house. At these meetings he took a very active part and gave to the members many interesting facts concerning his very large and varied experiences in his special branch of manufacturing.

His sudden death comes as a great shock to us who were so recently in his company and will be severely felt in his absence at our future meetings.

Mr. Dempsey was a great friend of and a constant attendant at the meetings of the association and a man most highly esteemed by its members.

E. W. THOMAS.

TAME SENATORIAL COEVENTION OF THE REPUBLICANL.

He Was Given Credit of Bringing the Normal School Here While Hon. Francis Jewett Boomed the Other Candidate.

Ether S. Foss is the man who will be licked by Hon. Peter J. Brady this fall.

Ether was nominated last night in the tamest convention ever held.

There wasn't even any enthusiasm to speak of, manifested towards the candidates.

Everyone seemed afraid to get up and make a motion.

Perhaps they were all afraid of incurring the displeasure of the A. P. A., and Simon B. Harris.

Walter Coburn was the only man with any tip to him; he made all the motions.

Simon B. dushed with the victory of Tuesday's convention found his way to the entrance of Huntington hall, long before the time of opening the door.

He was one of the first to gain entrance to the improperly heated hall, and during the half hour preceding the calling of the senatorial convention, his voice could be heard way above the din of conversation as he hustled here and there getting in his work.

Jackson hall boasts of two stoves and a range. They were in the hall last night but they might as well have been in the river for all the heat they gave out.

Before eight o'clock Larkin Trull, he of the oily tongue and quiet ways, came in and held a consultation with Janitor Brousseau who was speaking of his prospects for an aldermanic nomination with Chairman Kileski of the republican residue of the city committee.

About 8 o'clock all the delegates were in the hall and the odor of more or less fragrant cigar smoke permeated the atmosphere.

Mr. Foss was on hand almost as early as Simon B., but he was much less active than the monstrous convention dictator.

Called to Order.

A. G. Thompson called to order after eight o'clock. All the preliminary business was of a cut and dried nature.

Col. A. M. Chadwick was made temporary chairman as per slate, and George A. Roper, secretary, though he was not a member of the convention. Alperman Westall was then nominated but he was not a member of the convention.

Finally Ed Conant nominated A. G. Swapp and Andrew took his corner.

The committee on credentials appointed consisted of Albert Bixbie, Ward 1; John W. Stewart, Ward 2; S. W. Fletcher, Ward 3; Hon. Francis Jewett, Ward 4; Walter Coburn, Ward 5; Frank Hobbs, Ward 6.

It was voted on motion of Peter Caddell of Caledonian picnic fame, to allow the delegations to fill their own vacancies.

The committee on credentials reported 52 delegates, a full convention.

The temporary organization was then made permanent.

The Nomination Speeches(?)

Chairman Chadwick then called for nominations for senator.

Hon. Francis Jewett spoke of a fine republican workingman who had always hustled for the party's success.

The speaker dwelt at length upon this man's oratorical abilities, and concluded by placing in nomination the name of Alonzo G. Walsh.

Larkin T. Trull then walked to the front of the hall and spoke on the needlessness of long speeches and nominated Ether S. Foss.

Of the applause which followed the mention of the names, the greater amount was bestowed on Foss.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Trull said that Foss did most of the work of getting the normal school here. (Is it here?)

No one seemed to want to second either nomination and Walter Coburn moved to proceed to ballot.

The committee to juggle ballots were Mr. Coburn, E. J. Conant, D. H. Varnum and Chas. Stickney.

Foss On One Ballot.

The balloting resulted as follows:

Necessary for a choice	27
A. G. Walsh	23
E. S. Foss	29

At this, first there was a little enthusiasm shown.

On motion of Hon. Francis Jewett the nomination of Mr. Foss was made unanimous.

A committee was appointed to hunt up Foss and bring him to the platform and Walter Coburn was then elected a member of the state central committee.

When Foss took the platform he was greeted with applause.

He thanked the convention,

DECIDES TO MEET FITZSIMMONS IN A GLOVE FIGHT.

Nelson Is Out of His Class—He is Beaten By Directum in Three Straight Heats.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—William A. Brady, Corbett's manager, has telegraphed the New York Herald to transfer the $2000 posted there in behalf of O'Donnell in Corbett's name, to go with $9000 which was posted this morning with David W. Blanchard of Boston, making the $10,000 which Fitzsimmons' backers will be expected to cover. Brady also telegraphed The Herald that Corbett would meet Fitzsimmons in New York city on Oct. 11 to arrange details. Brady said that if any one else covers the $10,000, Corbett would meet them. A dispatch from the Olympic club last night, containing the resolutions passed by the club declaring the championship forfeited to Fitzsimmons, was replied to by Corbett as follows: "Your resolutions received. Cheer up and be merry; there's only one bite to a cherry."

A fight looks probable now. Where and when is the problem that will be discussed. Corbett does not want to accept the Olympic club's offer right off quick, as another offer may be made. Corbett was playing at Hartford last night.

Fitzsimmons Is Tickled.

DERBY, Conn., Oct. 4.—Bob Fitzsimmons received a telegram from the New York Herald last night, stating that Corbett had covered the money at The Herald office. Fitzsimmons was about as much pleased at the news as a boy with his first pair of pants. He said he would meet Corbett at The Herald office on Oct. 11 to sign an agreement and would do all he could to force Corbett into signing. He says he is willing to make any reasonable sacrifice to bring on the fight. He prefers fighting before the Olympic club, but will fight anywhere, for any sum and under almost any conditions.

THE TEMPLE CUP

Must Be Played For Under Old Agreement or Not at All.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The Baltimore and New York Baseball clubs will play for the Temple cup according to the rules and regulations prepared by the committee appointed by the league last spring, or they will not play at all.

Such is the decision of Secretary Young of the League, after receiving a letter from C. H. Byrne. Young decided that as the National League had given him and Byrne full authority to provide the regulations governing a contest for the Temple cup, that the regulations made must stand, and that the agreement made by Captains Hanlon and Ward to divide the receipts equally was in conflict with their regulations, and any game played under the agreement would be simply exhibition games and not for the cup. The captains of the two teams will simply be forced to agree to the 55 and 35 percentage arrangement.

Manager Hanlon was asked at Baltimore whether he would play for the Temple cup on the basis of 65 per cent of the receipts to the winners.

"You may say," said Manager Hanlon, "that the Baltimore players positively refuse to play the series except on the divide plan agreed between Mr. Ward and myself."

"Do you really mean, Mr. Hanlon, that if the New Yorks refuse to play except on the share alike plan that the games will not be played?"

"I most emphatically do," he replied.

Black Beauty Wins the Three Heats In the Race With Nelson.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—Maine's stallion has found his Waterloo. The greatest race ever trotted in Maine drew a small crowd to Rigby track to see the contest between Directum and Nelson. Hickok drove Directum. Hod Nelson drove the Maine horse and drew the pole.

After scoring three times the pair were given a splendid start. Nelson drove wide in the first quarter and carried Directum well out. The Maine horse set the pace and led by a full length to three-quarters. Then the black stallion came to the front and passed beneath the wire under the whip with Nelson a length behind. Time, 2:10.

Directum got the lead in the second heat, but was pushed hard all the way around, Nelson leading on the backstretch. On the homestretch Nelson fell back to Directum's haunches and finished there, both horses going under the wire beneath the whip. Time, 2:13¼.

The third heat was Directum's from the start. Hickok pushed him hard and left the Maine stallion far in the rear. At three-quarters Nelson gave up the race and trotted under the wire far behind.

Directum made the quarter in 32¾, half in 1:04¾, three-quarters in 1:36½, mile in 2:08¼, lowering the New England racing track record almost 2 seconds.

Smith Won on a Foul.

DENVER, Oct. 4.—About 250 sporting men saw the mill between Denver Ed Smith and Lawrence Farrell for a purse of $5000 in a ring pitched on the open prairie, in the same spot where Smith defeated Farrell eight years ago. Smith weighed 184 pounds and Farrell 171 pounds. Farrell fouled several times, and in the seventh round Referee Gallagher gave the fight to Smith on a bad foul. This is Smith's first fight since he whipped Goddard.

Fitz's Successor.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—John E. Dempsey has written to the sporting editor of The Daily Item: "Judging from the tone of Mr. Fitzsimmons' letter in the morning papers, I take it for granted that he has relinquished the title of middleweight champion. If this be so, I hold myself ready to defend that title. I will meet any man in the world at 154 pounds, and as a token of good faith, I deposit in your hands the enclosed check for $500."

Bollingbroke Club's Offer.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Bollingbroke club, expressing through the Sporting Life its astonishment at Corbett's peculiar notions, offers a purse of £3000 for a match between Jackson and Fitzsimmons, £100 to be allowed to each for expenses.

An Unprofitable Season.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 4.—The stockholders of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company elected the old board of officers. The past year has been an unprofitable one for the company. The product for the year ending May, 1894, was 87,037,038 yards; sales, 74,174,431 yards.

Debate Won't Come Off.

OMAHA, Oct. 4.—The state Republican central committee has refused a political debate between Governor McKinley and Congressman Bryan, declaring that the Ohio statesman's presence in the west is for a specific purpose. Bryan challenged McKinley.

A Benevolent Woman's Will.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 4.—The will of Lucinda P. Hough leaves $4000 to churches in East Longmeadow, bequeathes $1000 each to the American Seamen's Friend society, the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Missionary society and the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission society.

Doing Is Out Again.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Charles Doing, who was a jail guard 13 years ago, and who permitted Captain Howgate to escape, was reappointed to his old position just after Howgate's recapture in New York. The judges of the district court conferred with Jail Warden Leonard yesterday, and as a result Doing was relieved from duty.

A Creditable Performance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The old American clipper ship Great Admiral arrived yesterday from London, after a remarkably fast run of 23 days. Considering her age, this is a very creditable performance. The Great Admiral is in her 36th year, and was built at Boston, where she is owned. Her registered tonnage is 1497 tons.

AN AWFUL DEATH

Boston Lineman Electrocuted Trimming Lights.

THE ATTEMPTED RESCUER ALSO KILLED BY FALL.

Thousands of People Witnessed the Frightful Sight.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—A horrible electrocution occurred this morning, and the victim was a light trimmer employed by the Boston Electric Light company.

Charles E. Day was on a pole at Congress street trimming the lamp, and passers by heard a faint groan.

He was seen to be helpless and from his eyes, nose and mouth issued a blue flame. His body stiffened and then grew limp.

Word was sent to the emergency hospital and an ambulance came. Meanwhile two men had tried to climb the pole and were shocked; one young man got hold of Day and was thrown 30 feet to the ground and badly hurt.

One of the ambulance men named Munroe went up the pole and was thrown down suffering a fractured skull. He died before reaching the hospital.

After great exertions Day's body was lowered and taken to the police morgue. J. J. McCarthy, a lineman, also got a shock and, falling, was frightfully hurt.

A dead wire coming in contact with the light wire was the cause. Warnings have been sent out to all linemen to use extra precautions.

LOCAL NOTES.

The committee on streets will meet tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Miss Abbie M. Smith calls special attention to some exquisite designs in millinery. Seed ad. in this paper.

Irving C. Gates has been divorced from Ella J. Gates by the Suffolk county court. They were married here in 1867.

Miss J. F. Kenney's opening of fall and winter millinery will take place Friday and Saturday of this week at 125 Merrimack street.

The Independent club of Ward Six held a meeting last evening and discussed the present political situation. The club as yet has not endorsed any particular candidate.

Friday and Saturday of this week will be the opening days at Courville & Turte's millinery and dressmaking parlors, 131 East Merrimack street. A cordial invitation is extended.

Miss Sarah H. Cahill cordially invites the public to the opening of her branch millinery store in Corbett's new block on Gorham street. The opening will be held tomorrow and Saturday. The store will be managed by Miss Delia Renaud.

The millinery stores have undergone great changes in two days preparatory to the openings so successfully inaugurated today. The work rooms of millinery stores near Kirk street looked like dressing rooms of a theatre, the naked wax figures having quite realistic yet ghastly appearances.

Arrested for Alleged Theft.

Frank Herbert was arrested this morning by Detectives Lallamme and Allen for stealing $18 from his boarding mistress. Herbert boards on Columbus avenue and it is alleged took the money from a table on which it had been placed by the owner.

Jews Celebrated and Lost Their Jobs.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 4.—Eight Jews employed in Chick Brothers' shoe factory spent Monday and Tuesday celebrating the Jewish New Year. They were told by the firm that work was pressing, and that if they remained out they would be dismissed. Yesterday morning they appeared at the factory and refused to leave. The police were called, when the men concluded to leave peacefully.

Complete Returns From Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Oct. 4.—Complete returns from the 161 towns in the state that elected town officers Monday have been received. The Republicans have gained 22 towns over 1893, and the Democrats have lost 18, four towns of the Republican gain coming from the so-called "divided" towns. Five more towns vote no license this year than last. The women's vote has fallen off 700, from about 8700 to 8000.

ALMOST ASPHYXIATED.

Miss Gilfoyle of High Street Was Almost Called Away Early Today.

Margaret Gilfoyle, a table girl at Mrs. E. M. Taylor's boarding house, at 216 High street, was found nearly asphyxiated by gas at 4 a. m. Mr. Taylor heard the young woman groaning, and smelling gas he investigated and found the young woman just in time. In retiring last evening she turned off the gas and the turncock, of an old style, was turned too far. Had it not been for an open window she would have lost her life.

POLICE COURT DOINGS.

WILL ACCEPT NOMINATION.

HON. JOHN E. RUSSELL FINALLY CONSENTS TO RUN

As a Candidate for Governor on Democratic Ticket—Much Against His Will He is Called Again to the Post of Party Duty.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—The conference of Democratic leaders was held at the Parker House last night. Chairman Corcoran presided. After the conference was opened, John E. Russell, "the Shepherd of Leicester," announced that he was not in the best of trim, and that he ought not to be urged to run again. He thought that some younger man, one capable of making a more vigorous campaign than he, should be nominated. The situation was then discussed pretty fully, and with the result that Mr. Russell finally gave his consent to allow the use of his name.

JOHN E. RUSSELL.

Henry Hurlburt of Lynn has been practically decided upon for attorney general and Charles C. Spelman of Springfield for secretary of state.

To a large number of newspaper men, who were anxious to hear the result of the conference, Mr. Russell simply stated that, in the event of a call for him in the convention, he had decided to waive his personal feelings and to again accept the nomination if it should be tendered him by the convention.

An Organizer Charged With Fraud.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Judge Lacombe has made an order for the appointment of a temporary receiver for the affairs of the Colorado River Irrigation company. In the bill of complaint, it was charged that John C. Beatty organized the company for his own selfish ends, and to secure the sale of $7,500,000 of a worthless tract of land in Mexico, to which he did not have even a claim.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral of the late Charlotte Tighe took place this morning from St. Michael's church. A large congregation was present. The high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Gilday. The choir rendered Schmidt's requiem mass. Several beautiful floral offerings were placed on the casket. The bearers were Messrs. M. Quinn, Lawrence Kelly, John Ryan, Robert Tweed, John McKeon and Frank Varley. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery, where the committal service was conducted by the celebrant of the mass.

Josephine Conda, aged 30 years, died last evening at her home on Chelmsford street. The funeral took place from O'Donnell's warerooms this afternoon and interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

Annie Michel, infant child of Charles and Annie Michel, died this morning at their home, 294 Middlesex street. The funeral occurred this afternoon and the remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Ellen Watson took place this afternoon from her late home on Adams street and was largely attended. Interment in the Catholic cemetery, where services were conducted by Rev. Fr. Leonard.

The funeral of the late Dea. Abel Coburn occurred this afternoon at two o'clock from his late residence, 246 Varnum avenue, Pawtucketville. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Leland. The bearers were Messrs. Otis and Oliver Coburn and Charles and Joseph Varnum. Interment was in Woodbine cemetery.

Grand Semi-annual Opening.

According to their annual custom, Miss Head and Mrs. Shaw, milliners, at 169 Merrimack street, will devote three days to their opening in order that the ladies may become familiar with the prevailing styles in millinery for the fall and winter. Today, tomorrow and Saturday they will display for inspection their fine line of hats and bonnets. The reputation of this firm for doing fine work is so well established that comment would be superfluous. Their ability to do excellent work is shown by the fact that their business has been steadily increasing while other dealers have been crying "hard times." Their success is due to low prices and the satisfaction they give their customers. Call today and see their display. The store is tastefully decorated with potted plants and ferns. If you have any regard for your pocketbook you will leave your order with Head & Shaw, 169 Merrimack street.

Benevolent Society Officers.

The Ladies Benevolent society of the Highland M. E. church has elected these officers: Pres., Mrs. Dodge; vice presidents, Mrs. Short and Mrs. Hill; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Livingstone; solicitors, Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Maguire; directors, Mrs. Mudge, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Duren, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Hodge, Mrs. Varnum, Mrs. Waugh, Mrs. Lombard, Mrs. Falls, Mrs. Maguire, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Murkland, Mrs. Brierley.

Religious Inspiration of Cyclonic Speech

Rev. J. H. Weber, the "cyclone preacher" commenced his work in this city last evening and a large congregation was present in St. Paul's church. The meeting was directed by Rev. F. K. Stratton and after the singing of the doxology the scripture was read.

Mr. Weber was then introduced and delivered a stirring address. He claims to be a reaper rather than a preacher and his faith reaches out for a great harvest.

An Error in Figures.

There is an error in the statement that $29,000 had been appropriated for the Princeton street highway and only $2,000 for the extension of the boulevard. The correct figures are expected to be sent this week.

YOUR WATCH needs cleaning. Bring it to Nower & Sparks, 285 Central Street. We will put it in order and do all that it requires for a year for $1.50. We take our chances; if the watch is smashed the charge will be $1.50 and no more. Watch loaned during repairs. INSURE YOUR WATCH.

HAPPY BRIDES

They Were Claimed in Marriage by Manly Grooms.

Events of Last Night Which Claimed Society's Attention.

The society event of last evening, was the church wedding of two well known, well liked young society people of the Highlands, and as a matter of course the list of invitations sent out included all the prominent people of the city and many guests from abroad.

The bride was Miss Alice Gates White, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gideon F. White of Gates street, and the groom Mr. John Milton Washburn of Lowell, who is in business in Boston. The ceremony was performed in the Eliot church with the Rev. Dr. J. M. Greene as officiating clergyman. Precisely at six o'clock the bridal party entered the audience room, from the vestibule on the left, to the strains of Lohengrin and proceeded up the aisle, the bride, who came in on her father's arm being proceeded by the ushers Mr. Royal W. Gates, Mr. Henry Kittredge Gates, Mr. Louis H. Swift, Dr. George H. Jennison, and Mr. F. W. Norton of Nashua, N. H., Mr. H. U. True of Boston and Mr. Joseph E. Gates of Bedford, Mass. Then came little Miss Margaret Smith, as maid in waiting, and Miss Harriet A. White, maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Almira M. Whitted, Miss Blanche Cadwell and Miss Dula Wallace of Nashua, N. H., Miss Marcella Whiteside, Miss Mabel H. Stevens of Lowell.

At the altar, the groom accompanied by Mr. George H. Sargent of Andover, formerly of this city, met the party, and standing before the beloved pastor took part in the responsive marriage ceremony, and during which Handel's Largo was played on the organ. The scene at the altar was a beautiful one, for the bride was richly gowned in cream duchess satin, trimmed with duchess lace, wore the conventional veil, and carried bride's roses, while the bridesmaids on her left wore beautiful gowns of delicate shades. After the prayer and benediction, the bridal party left the room to the merry peal of Mendelssohn's march. The ushers then conducted the immediate relatives to their carriages, the other guests remaining seated in the pews which were tied with twined laurel.

The altar and platform were banked with clematis, ferns, holly and foliage plants of dark green, making a beautiful back ground for the more beautiful subject. The choir rail was also screened with foliage.

The newly married couple were driven to the bride's home where a family reception was held during the evening. Here the arrangements were in keeping with the elaborate church ceremony.

Among the out of town guests were: Lieut. Patch of the U.S.N.; Mr. and Mrs. Solon W. Whitted of Nashua, N. H.; Mr. and Mr. C. A. Robey of Nashua, N. H.; Miss Kathleen Robey, Miss Marion Robey of Nashua, and Mr. E. F. Quinlan of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Washburn will be at home at 11 Belmont street, on Thursdays in December.

Richards—Pettengill,

A charming home wedding was that at the bride's home on Mount Hope street, in Pawtucketville, last evening, when Miss Evelyn Pettengill became the bride of Mr. William C. Richards. Rev. G. F. Kenngott officiated standing in an alcove while the bridal party stood under a canopy of white lace, asparagus and evergreen. The bride looked as sweet as all brides do on such auspicious occasions, and she was gowned in white silk, with satin ribbons, and carried bridal roses and maiden hair ferns. Miss Lenora Pettengill, the bride's sister, and Miss Nellie Richards, the groom's sister, were the bridesmaids, and their gowns were of white silk, and they had bouquets of Jaquominot roses.

The ushers were Robert S. Fulton and H. F. Hamilton of Newport, Vt. When the bridal party entered the parlor, Miss Alice Sexton played the Swedish wedding march, and during the ceremony the "Flower Song."

A reception followed and many friends of the happy couple attended, among the number being Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Elkins of Newport, Vt., and Master Clayton Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Hall of Bedford, Vt., Messrs. Hamilton and Chamberlain, of Newport, Vt. The groom's favors to the bridesmaids were silver pins, and the ushers wore bride's roses tied with a lover's knot of white silk. Mr. and Mrs. Richards have left for parts unknown, but will be "at home" at 236 Cabot street, after Nov. 13th. No cards.

A Double Wedding.

Of the many weddings which have occurred here for a long time double weddings have been almost a rarity. But one did occur last evening, and accordingly it was quite an event. They occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Coote, 261 Andover street. One bride was Miss Isabella Anna Coote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coote, and the groom Mr. Edward W. Richardson. The other bride was Miss Anna Jane Murdy of Wakefield, who has been the guest of Miss Coote for three weeks, preparatory to leaving for a visit to her home in Sweden. The groom was Mr. Olaf Edward Atkinson, also of Wakefield, who, desirous of keeping his sweetheart for "better for worse," wanted the ceremony performed at the same time, which was done. The clergymen were Rev. Dr. Coote of New York, cousin of Miss Coote, assisted by Rev. Hugh Montgomery. Both brides wore white silk gowns, with lace trimmings and bouquet of white roses. The maids of honor were Miss Bertha Halstead and Miss Anna Coote. Miss Coote, the bride, carried a fan set with pearls used by her mother at her wedding 40 years ago. A reception followed during the evening, and congratulations were many and equally bestowed upon happy grooms and brides. Late in the evening both started on wedding trips. Among the guests were Archie A. Boomhower of Worcester, Dr. James Coote of New York, Miss Sarah J. Coote of Worcester, and Mrs. Samuel Johnson of Haverhill.

Mulno-Ebert.

The wedding of Miss Edith L. Ebert, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Ebert, to Mr. Walter Mulno, son of Supt. Robert Mulno of the Lowell cemetery, at the home of the bride on Branch street yesterday afternoon was one of the prettiest of afternoon affairs. A large party of acquaintances of the happy couple were there to witness the ceremony and to offer them congratulations during the reception from 4 till 6. Rev. L. C. Manchester of St. John's church read the full Episcopal service, with the ring, and the bride was given away by her mother. The bride's gown was of white brocaded satin and she wore white roses.

The bridesmaid was Miss Avis Blaisdell, and the groomsman was Mr. Harry Mulno. The maid of honor was Miss Mabel Wiggins and the page Master Harold Wiggin. The ushers were Messrs. Edward Dennett, John Kilpatrick, David Stanlels and Herbert L. Mulno.

The house was prettily decorated with autumn foliage and wild flowers, and refreshments were served by a caterer. Among the guests from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. Laton, Mr. and Mrs. Stanlels and Mrs. George Ebert of Nashua, and the Misses Lucy and Lillian Mulno of Andover. The number of wedding gifts was very large, and their value considerable.

A Double Event.

The pleasant occasion of a tenth anniversary of marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Skinner of 694 Middlesex street and the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Stevens of Chelsea, Vt., brought together a goodly company of friends last evening. Mrs. Stevens was Miss Bernice Skinner, a daughter of Mr. Skinner by his first marriage, and she was married on Tuesday at the groom's home. The evening was spent socially, interspersed with a musical program, in which Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. C. P. Stevens, Miss Felicita Reno, Mrs. Fred Baron and Miss Sarah Bradford took part. Both the newly married couple and the host and hostess received valuable remembrances.

HOW FOSS PULLED WIRES.

HE SECURES THE NOMINATION DESPITE THE MAJORITY.

He Gave Political I. O. U's. to Unpledged Delegates For Their Support in the Convention—Walsh Was the Choice of the Majority—Foss Did Not Control His Own Committee for the Normal School—The A. P. A. Wants Control of the Governor's Council.

Ether S. Foss has been chosen by the republicans to enter the senatorial contest against Hon. Peter J. Brady. Mr. Foss was disappointed in his ambition to become a license commissioner. He was unfortunate enough to get into a cuddle sac and his appeal to the legislature for a special act to get him out was in vain. He resigned his position as representative, having greater solicitude for the proper application of the liquor law than for representing his constituents in the Great and General court.

It is not a mark of gratitude on the part of an office holder to resign on the slightest pretext. When Mr. Foss accepted the nomination for representative, his constituents supposed he was going to serve the full term. But something more lucrative caught his eye, he yearned for a big pull among the liquor dealers of the city, for the power of granting or revoking licenses, but neither his prompt resignation nor his inordinate desire to become a license commissioner could move the legislature to pass a special act in his favor.

It was fortunate that good sense and sound judgment prevailed to prevent the establishment of a pernicious precedent such as the qualification of Foss by a special act would have been.

Mr. Foss came out of the whole affair discredited and disappointed. He had incurred the displeasure of his constituents by his futile efforts to secure appointment on the license commission and his utter disregard for their feelings and their interests.

Now he comes to ask higher honors at their hands; but how can they tell that he will serve throughout the senatorial term if elected? He has proven himself a time server, a chronic office seeker and a mercenary politician. Can the republicans of the district be expected to give him their cordial support after such a betrayal of their confidence? Not likely. But for the efforts of Mr. Foss to get to be license commissioner, the constitution of the local commission would have been different and some of the republican candidates realize and remember this.

They are in waiting for Mr. Foss at the polls. Their friends will oppose Foss. The republicans of Ward Four are opposed to him, as was shown by its delegation to the convention. He could not carry his own ward. As a matter of fact Mr. Walsh would have been the candidate had not Mr. Foss gone around among the unpledged delegates, and by various political wiles, by promises of favors to come and by personal political I. O. U.'s, signed, sealed and delivered, induced them to support him in the convention.

His nomination was unanimous we are told. Yes, the old time worn motion of making unanimous a nomination that was won only by two votes out of a total of 50, was carried of course. A similar motion was carried at the councillor convention the other day after a free rough and tumble fight such as has not been seen in this city since the days of Angel Gabriel. The motion to make Mr. Foss's nomination unanimous was carried, but did that make it unanimous? Not at all. There were present a majority in that convention who knew that if fairplay prevailed, Mr. Walsh would have been the nominee.

A republican who favored Walsh was seen after the convention and stated that Foss manipulated the wires in a disgraceful way. He had brought the greatest pressure upon men who were to vote for Walsh. "He worked upon them and got every bit of influence he could command to get them pledged to vote for him in the convention. Had Mr. Walsh used the same methods he could have beaten Foss by at least ten votes. I tell you Foss is not the choice of the republican majority, he will not poll the full republican strength and I here and now predict his defeat and the election of Hon. Peter J. Brady."

Had Senator Brady heard this statement it would have warmed the cockles of his heart. Yet it was a mere expression of a feeling which is very prevalent among republicans throughout the city.

It is absolutely necessary in a nominating speech to say something in praise of the candidate even if the truth must be considerably stretched. And so when Larkin T. Trull arose to nominate Mr. Foss, he misstated the facts when he said Foss did most of the work of bringing the normal school here. He was a member of the committee on finance and failed to control that committee in Lowell's favor. Senator Brady obtained the support of several committees besides those of which he was a member and Larkin T. Trull who was not in the legislature at all did much more work for the normal school than did Ether S. Foss.

***

The delegates to the third district councillor convention had even a worse fight than was witnessed at the councillor convention in this city. It was a trial of strength between the A. P. A. and the straight liberal republicans. For eleven ballots and during seven hours the battle raged in Wesleyan hall, Boston, and then an adjournment was taken without action. The A. P. A., candidate was R. S. Burnham of Revere and the regular republican candidate who was the most formidable opponent was George N. Swallow of Charlestown. The fights of the A. P. A. in all the councillor conventions indicate that the darklanternites want to have full control of the governor's council if they cannot control the governor.

SHOT A BURGLAR

Policeman in Connecticut Who was a Good Shot.

HIS CAPTURE PROVED TO BE A GOOD ONE.

Telegraphic News From All Parts of the World.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

MIDDLETON, Ct., Oct. 4.—Police Officer Fay shot a man whom he was chasing early this morning.

According to the officer's story he saw two suspicious looking men hanging around C. K. Hubbard's house on High street, and later when he saw them trying to get in he captured one and started for the police station, and the man broke away. The officer fired once at the ground and called on the man to stop. He did not and the officer shot him through the back.

The man is at the hospital and will not talk. On him was found a complete kit of burglar's tools.

SITUATION IN CHINA

Calls for Protection of British Subjects and It Will be Given by Great Britain.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The council of the foreign cabinet today decided to assure better protection to British subjects in China and will order more warships to Chinese waters.

An American Opinion.

By Associated Press to THE SUN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Hon. Henry W. Andrews, ex consul to Hankow, was interviewed by an Associated Press reporter at the Fifth avenue hotel today, regarding the situation in China, the attitude of Chinese toward resident foreigners and the danger menacing them. He said that in Pekin the danger is great because officers are unable to restrain their men. The only way to protect Europeans is to move them under the guns of the ironclads.

Some Personal Mention.

Mr. C. Barrows intends to enter the railroad business this week in the Portland office of the Maine Central.

Mr. C. C. Dawson formerly with the J. C. Ayer Co., and now a resident of Toledo, Ohio, is making a brief visit among the many Lowell friends by whom he is most cordially welcomed.

Col. Haggett has moved to the house owned by Prescott C. Gates on East Merrimack street. Passengers on the electrics will miss the genial colonel and his little dog "Brandy" on the porch of his long-time residence at the corner of Andover and Nesmith streets.

Married in Malone.

In Malone, N. Y., yesterday, Mr. Charles Littlefield of Lowell and Miss Hattie Monroe of Lynn were united in marriage by Rev. Andrew Miller at his home, it being the home of one of the bride's sisters. After a short tour to Montreal and Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield will be at home to their friends after Oct. 20th at 34 Columbus avenue, Lowell.

PERSONAL.

Mayor Pickman is expected home from his trip to Virginia tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis P. Eaton of Redington, Me., are visiting in Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Munn Andrews have taken up their residence on East Merrimack street.

Mr. E. E. Adams gave a song recital at his studio in the Gildden block, to a select party of friends last evening.

Horton H. Hilton of this city and Miss Myrtie E. Pope of Milford, N. H., were married Wednesday by Rev. H. Lockhart.

Miss Nellie Coburn, daughter of the late Jefferson Coburn of this city, is engaged in missionary work among the poor in London.

The engagement of Mr. Charles H. Abbot and Mrs. Addie Moulton, both of San Francisco, is announced. Both are well known here.

Anthony Lavery, the well known Broadway baker, has gone with a party of friends to see the sights of N.Y. city. He will take a trip up the Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. Cumnock and the Misses Cumnock left yesterday for Pittsfield to attend the wedding of Miss Cutting and Mr. A. J. Cumnock, on Saturday.

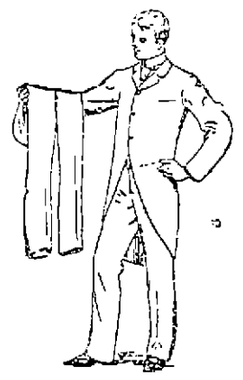
Cards have been issued for the wedding of Miss Mabel H. Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solon W. Stevens, and Mr. Lewis H. Swift, at St. Anne's church, Oct. 17th.

Mr. Frank Townley Watson of Norwood and Miss Isabella Bruce Parker of this city were married in the presence of a few friends at noon Tuesday, October 2, in St. John's church by the rector, Rev. L. C. Manchester. They will reside at Norwood.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Shepard and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sherburne recently made a bicycle trip from Barre, Vt., to this city, then to Boston, Springfield and New York, where they made a tour of Central park, and back home again. While in Lowell they were the guests of Mrs. L. L. Greene.

Worked an Old Dodge.

A swindler claiming to be with the Palmer Manufacturing company has been here. His game is to solicit lady agents for a face powder which he carries. He left a lot of stuff with one lady and obtained $10 as advance money, saying he would call again and replenish the stock. He hasn't called and the powder is worthless.



No recent introduction in clothing has met with such instantaneous success as the new brown and brown mixed fabrics.

These new effects will be found with the best merchant tailors, but were brought out too late to be made up by the ordinary ready-made clothiers.

With the exception of the several lots of Brown Serge and Cheviot Suits, which we have received from Rogers, Peet & Co., of New York, we do not know of any others to be had ready-made.

A chance here to get strictly custom styles before they become common.

They Represent Hundreds of Evangelical Sunday Schools.

The big Sunday school convention in the First Congregational church, which opened for business yesterday, has brought fully 500 delegates from out of town, all parts of the country east of the Alleghanies being represented.

Prominent among the number are some of the best known Sunday school workers, both clergy and laity, and the services and exercises are of special value, help and significance.

As to the local interest it was evidenced by an attendance of over 4000 persons yesterday, nearly half this number being at the evening service.

The actual sessions opened yesterday morning by an address of welcome by Rev. G. F. Kenngott, the pastor, and a response by President Pickles of the interdenominational Sunday school body.

The secretary, J. N. Dummer, then presented his report which showed a gain of 15,334 members during the year making a total membership of 312,836 in 1821 evangelical sunday schools.

Committees were appointed as follows: Nominating committee, W. L. Floyd, J. M. Pearson, Rev. George F. Kenngott, Rev. C. H. Watson, H. V. Upham; resolutions, Rev. J. N. Dutton, Rev. W. H. Harris, Rev. E. T. Curnick; enrollment, J. N. Dummer, A. S. Cutler, W. E. French; finance, Rev. F. A. Warfield, T. A. McMaster.

Miss Bertha F. Vella of Boston told of the work done in the primary department, and said there are now 15 primary unions.

Reports were received from various districts; and all showed a very encouraging state of affairs.

It was voted to hold the next annual convention in Fall River. Rev. Everett D. Burr of the Ruggles street church, Boston delivered a very learned address which was received with applause.

In the afternoon the session opened with praise service by Prof. Towner. Rev. Mr. Clark offered prayer, after which the report of the nominating committee was asked for. The committee presented the name of Rev. R. G. Seymour of this city, for president, and he was unanimously elected.

He thanked the convention for honoring him, and said the work of the Sunday school must be kept up, as its prime object is the salvation of human souls.

The working of the home class department was explained by J. N. Dummer.

Rev. Dr. Mudge then offered prayer for the success of the work.

William N. Hartshorn chairman of the executive committee took "The Field and the Work" for his subject and delivered a very instructive address. At the conclusion of the address a reception was held followed by supper which was served in the vestry.

The evening service commenced sharply at 7.30. Prof. Towner directed the song service, which lasted about half an hour. Dr. A. A. Schauffler of Chicago spoke on "the teachers' four best things," which he said were the material, the tools, the best aim in view and the co-worker.

Pres. Seymour and Rev. G. F. Kenngott made a plea for funds and a collection was taken to help defray the expense of the association.

E. F. Jacobs, chairman of the international executive committee delivered a practical address on aggressive Sunday school work.

This was the closing address and with it Mr. Jacobs tendered to the convention the greeting of the New Hampshire convention, which is being held in Lebanon, and which Mr. Jacobs had attended during the day.

CLEAR THE decks for action.

CONGRESSMEN MORSE and Walker are slated for another trip to congress.

CORBETT HAS a big appetite to attempt to digest six pugilists in a single week.

HON. GEORGE M. STEARNS of Chicopee is to take up his residence in Brookline.

IF THE state election be not properly conducted it will not be for lack of precinct officers.

BOWLING, cricket and whist playing are the games which hold the attention of the majority at present.

CHINA SEEMS doomed to defeat. She anticipates her doom and rushes to meet it with the Japanese army close behind her.

LAST SUNDAY was the first in the history of New York when the liquor stores were closed. The drought was horrifying.

SO THE independent movement in New York state has subsided. There will be but one ticket and that will be the winner.

THE GREAT aim of the New York constitutional convention seems to have been to cheat the majority out of their political rights.

THE REPUBLICAN party of this state is fast succumbing to a disease with which it was once attacked in the early fifties and which is now known as Apaphobia.

HENRY CABOT LODGE will not be in a hurry to throw off his coat and enter the front of a political battle. He has been taught a salient lesson in the seventh district.

HON. JOHN E. RUSSELL, it is stated, has decided to accept the honor of again being nominated for governor on the democratic ticket. He is the only logical candidate.

THE LOTTIE COLLINS show was a disappointment to those who have heard her name associated with the Ta Ra Ra Boom de Re craze. Lottie will have to get a move on or she will soon be a back number.

THE LENOX committee is after the police that have been using their clubs too freely. The committee is adducing evidence to show that the police are exempt from all laws and that they can kill, shoot, murder with impunity.

ACCORDING TO the provisions adopted by the New York constitutional convention the political effect of the population of New York city is to be curtailed so that a party which is 50,000 in the minority in the state may control the state legislature. That is a blow at majority rule just as minority representation is in the city of Boston and elsewhere.

JAPAN, FROM all accounts, seems to be preparing for a triumphal march on Pekin. The fall of the Chinese capital before the Japanese forces would be an era in Oriental history beside which the Hegira would sink into insignificance. Civilization is always advanced when a civilized power vanquishes a barbarous one in an effort to promote the welfare of humanity by establishing just forms of government and abolishing the barbarous codes.

MINORITY REPRESENTATION FOR MIDDLESEX COUNTY.

The present commissioners are J. Henry Read of Westford, Samuel O. Upham of Waltham, and Francis Bigelow of Natick.

These are the three farmers who constitute the close corporation known as the commissioners of Middlesex county.

It is very strange that the democrats cannot get a man to break up this triumvirate. If it cannot be done by ordinary methods, and it may be impossible to overcome the ring for years on account of its power of perpetuating itself, then let the principle of minority representation be applied.

If it has such magificent results in Boston why should it not work equally well in Middlesex county? It is time a democrat bad a place upon the county commission. All up for a man who can break up the obnoxious county ring.

THE CHALLENGE issued through the Boston Advertiser by Rev. Fr. O'Brien to the leaders of the A. P. A., is a sweeping one. The Rev. Dr. Dunn who would set down all Catholics as ipse facto disloyal citizens will have an opportunity to prove his statement if he is not a complete coward as he is presumed to be by virtue of having made the charge. It is hoped that the commission of Protestant gentlemen will undertake to decide whether there is anything in the teachings of the Catholic church inconsistent with the highest patriotism and the most exacting loyalty to this country. If Fr. O'Brien's challenge be accepted the result will be to disprove the false charge against Catholics, upon which the very existence of the A.P.A. is based.

THE ABSORPTION of a lot of smaller or moribund clubs by the Vespers is a significant event in the history of clubdom in Lowell. The Vespers after gobbling up the Country club gathers in the M. M. A. which has been dragging out a dreary existence for want of courage to die for the past ten years.

THE RAILROAD commissioners will hold a public hearing on the subject of railroad fenders on October 22. What seems to be needed is a car attachment which will lift a person getting in the way and throw him or her into a commodious featherbed to be carried for that purpose.

LORD HAWKE and his cricketers will be beaten it appears by the Massachusetts team. His Lordship did not dream of the grit of Massachusetts men though they've beaten Johnny Bull and may do so still again.

HE TURNED THE TIDE.

A Fakir Whose Red Salve Proved to Be a Great Thing.

The fakir had opened up business on the public square of a southern town and was going on to tell how his "red salve" would cure toothache, neuralgia, backache, rheumatism, sprains and most everything else under the sun, when a big and ugly looking colored man pressed his way into the crowd and said:

"I dun bought a box of dat stuff of yo' ober to Augusta, an it hain't worth shucks!"

"What! What's that you're saying?" demanded the fakir as he stopped short in his appeal to a suffering public.

"Dat stuff hain't no better'n so much mud!" growled the colored man.

"Sir," exclaimed the fakir, "you have publicly accused me of being a swindler, and the case is one which must be thoroughly investigated! I warrant my red salve to cure certain ailments or the money will be refunded. What was your ailment?"

"Pain, sah!"

"Where was that pain?"

"Down betwixt my shoulders."

"And you used the salve according to the directions?"

"Yes, sah."

"And you've used it all up, and the pain is still there?"

"De pain am still wuss, I reckon."

"Then my red salve has skipped a cog, and I must refund your money. First, however, let me make an examination. Come up here till I run my hand down behind your collar and see where the pain is."

The colored man had on a woolen shirt, which was open at the throat, and he bent his head and let the fakir slide his hand down. The latter felt around for a minute and then withdrew his hand and held a bent and rusty tenpenny nail up to view and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, is it any wonder my celebrated red salve couldn't take away the pain with this nail sticking into his back? One box of it pulled the nail over half way out, and yet he declares that I'm a liar and a robber! I think I felt at least three other nails, besides a pipe stem, a hairpin, a wishbone and a gimlet, and yet he has the face to come here and demand his money back! Does any one ever hear"—

"What dat nail cum from?" shouted the colored man as he danced around.

"Drawn out of your lungs by the use of one box of my world renowned red salve, sir."

"Ah no' a-comin?"

"Heaps more, and yet you charge me with being a robber and murderer! I guarantee to refund the money in every case where a cure is not effected, and therefore I now tender"——

"No, sah—no, sah!" shouted the negro as he flung his arms about in great excitement. "I doan' dun want my money back! I dun wants another box of dat stuff to bring out all de razzors, jackknives, cotton choppers an cornplows dat's got lodged in my system doorin de las' 20 y'ars, an if one box won't do it doan' you dun leave dis town till I'ze got fo' or five! Gimme dat salve, an you, boy Hiram, cum along an rub it on an lookout fur nails an splinters workin out!"—Detroit Free Press.

LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT,

Consumption comes. A slight cold, with your system in the scrofulous condition that's caused by impure blood, is enough to fasten it upon you. Consumption is Lung-Scrofula. You can prevent it, and you can cure it, if you haven't waited too long, with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. For Scrofula, Weak Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all severe, lingering Coughs PIERCE guarantees a CURE.

Before taking the "Discovery" I would have four or five bad coughing spells every day and would cough up mouthfuls of solid white froth, and before I took one bottle it stopped it. I could not walk across the room with the pain in my back and sides; but soon the pain was all gone, and I could sleep well at night. My general health is much better since taken the "Golden Medical Discovery" although I have been obliged to work hard on a farm.

ENGLAND'S CARE

At the Prospect of a New Naval Power.

FRANCE IS MAKING SOME CRAFTY MOVES.

Looking Toward Cutting Off Commerce in War Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The state department has been very fully advised from time to time by our representatives abroad of the inception and growth of the trouble between France and Great Britain relative to Madagascar. Efforts have also been made at intervals to induce our government to take sides in the matter, based on our large commercial interests in the island, for, surprising as it may seem to persons who know of the existence of Madagascar from the geographies, the United States controls three tenths of the trade of this great island, which, in territorial area, quite equals France.

For years all of this commerce has been more or less hampered in growth by a standing dispute between France and the Hovas government, touching the recognition of consuls. The French claim the right under treaty to control all of the foreign relations of Madagascar, and include in their claim a right to issue exequaturs to consuls. The Hovas government held that the consuls' functions pertained only to commerce and were not connected with foreign relations. For this reason it insisted upon controlling their recognition.

Duties of Consuls Interfered With.

Things came to such a pass finally that consuls had to be provided with dual credentials, and even then they were sometimes not permitted to exercise their functions. The United States has had much difficulty in this respect, and our present consul at Tamatave is acting now under a provisional and unsatisfactory arrangement.

The British and Germans have not relished the claims of France in this respect and have indirectly sought to make the United States take the lead in repudiating them, though so far without success, as our state department has steadily abstained from interference.

Aside from this question of commerce, always of importance in British eyes, the principal reason for British concern in Madagascar, as it is understood here, lies in the fear that France is about to establish a new Gibraltar in the Indian ocean that would in time of war give her the power to totally cut off commerce between India, Australia, the Cape settlements and England.

France Strengthening Madagascar.

Already the French have been busily engaged in making a fortress and naval station at Diego Suarioz, on the northern extremity of Madagascar. Here is a magnificent harbor, almost landlocked, and even at present quite as impregnable as Gibraltar itself. Making this harbor their base, a few French cruisers might so guard the Indian sea as to make British commerce impossible.

And the French are reaching out. They want more land around Diego Suarioz to extend their fortifications, and they want Fort Dauphin at the southern extremity of Madagascar and several points between on the eastern and western coasts.

The British believe that these fortifications seriously threaten their East African possessions, and they are disposed to protest, but they find themselves much hampered, for when Great Britain annexed Zanzibar, lying to the west across Mozambique channel, they did so through an understanding with France that the latter should have a free hand to deal with Madagascar.

Diplomatic Circles Are Watching

the French-English contention over Madagascar as possibly foreshadowing a conflict for supremacy in Africa and the establishment there of an empire similar to the British empire in India.

A member of the diplomatic corps points out recent significant action indicating the basis of this belief. Last May Great Britain entered into a secret alliance by which it secured control over the Congo Free State in the heart of Africa. The arrangement was made at Brussels with the King of Belgium, who has been instrumental in exploring and developing the Congo country.

With this acquisition, Great Britain secured the middle link between her colonies in the south of Africa and those of Egypt on the north. In effect, it established Great Britain as supreme from the Mediterranean to the Cape of Good Hope. This belt of country extended north and south through the middle of Africa, except along a short stretch of the lower Nile, and as to this, English engineers reported that the portions of the river within British dominion could be so affected that the entire route of the stream could be controlled by the British.

The result of the Brussels arrangement was to give hopes in England and fears in France that the British empire of Africa was about to be accomplished in the same quiet way that the British dominion in Asia had been effected.

France on the Watch.

The incident has, however, aroused France to the strengthening of her hold on African soil if she hopes to head off England's purpose of securing commercial control of the country by establishing an English belt from the north to the south.

It was only four months ago that the British arrangement at Brussels was effected, and it is within the past few weeks that the French protest caused it to be vacated. Now comes the French move in Madagascar, which has caused such agitation and talk of war in London and Paris.

It is not, says the diplomat, any mere contention over Madagascar, but a part of the great contention between Great Britain and France for commercial control and political empire over Africa. For this reason, the present contest is regarded as affecting not only Madagascar but the future of the Dark Continent.

Nothing In It.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Inquiries made at the foreign office late elicited the information that the calling of a cabinet council has no connection whatever with the meeting of the French cabinet on the same day.

The relations between Great Britain and France have certainly been strained during the past six months, since the attacks of the French press upon the Marquis of Dufferin, the British ambassador at Paris. Numerous colonial questions have also given rise to friction.

Although the government ministers would be glad to seize upon an occasion to discuss this matter, the cabinet would not have been summoned but for the dangerous appearance of the situation in China.

The Marquis of Dufferin is still in the north of Ireland. If the relations with France had been the cause of summoning a cabinet council, Lord Dufferin would certainly have come to London to consult with Lord Rosebery, the premier.

The Times, in a leader, points to the fact that neither the Marquis of Dufferin nor Baron de Courcel, the new French ambassador, is at his post, as proof that there are no serious matters between the two governments in dispute.

No Cause For Alarm.

BELFAST, Oct. 4.—The Marquis of Dufferin, British ambassador to France, is enjoying a vacation at his Belfast seat. To a reporter he said he saw no reason for immediate alarm in the relations between Great Britain and France.

BODIES WASHED ASHORE

Give Evidence of Many Wrecks During the Recent Southern Hurricane.

KEY WEST, Oct. 4. — More than 50 human bodies have been washed up along the reefs near here in the last few days. Many wrecks have been sighted near the Florida coast by the steamers which have arrived here. It may be that the bodies are from vessels wrecked by the recent hurricane in the Gulf of Mexico, and have been carried to Key West by the Gulf stream.

The steamer El Rio reported that on Sept. 26 she sighted a large steamer ashore eight miles northeast of Alligator reef. The vessel seemed to be a foreign tramp steamer.

The Ossee brought to Key West the first and second mates of the bark Wandering Chief, from Belize to Havre, which was totally wrecked on Elbow reef. The two men were the only survivors.

Most of the crew of the bark Brandon were lost when she was wrecked on Crocker's reef on Sept. 24. She was bound from Ship Island, Miss., to Liverpool.

The Morgan line steamer El Morte, recently arrived at New Orleans, signalled a large ship, bottom up, north of Alligator reef and a large barkentine well up on the reef, whose names she could not ascertain.

Professor David Swing Dead.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Professor David Swing died last evening. He was taken sick about a week ago with gastric fever, which developed into acute jaundice. Professor Swing was born in Cincinnati 65 years ago. He accepted a call to occupy the pulpit of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Chicago, in 1885. From that time to his death he held a place in the popular favor of the western metropolis. His originality in thought and his liberality in the interpretation of a creed attracted much attention.

Flaw in the Indictment.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Oct. 4.—In the United States court the case of Dr. J. C. Moore, charged with the embezzlement of funds of the Commonwealth National bank of that city, of which he was president, was brought to a sudden termination owing to a fatal error in the indictment. The defense claimed that there was no place in the indictment where the bank was properly designated. Judge Webb instructed the jury to render a verdict for the defendant and Dr. Moore was discharged.

Children Kidnapped.

SALEM, Mass., Oct. 4.—Four men forcibly kidnapped from the residence of Mrs. A. H. Gledden yesterday her two children, and Mrs. Gledden claims that her husband was one of the men. Several years ago Mrs. Gledden's husband sued her for divorce, but was defeated, and she was given the custody of the children.

Whipping Post For Child Beaters.

ALBANY, Oct. 4.—Commodore Gerry addressed the final session of the convention of the humane society in favor of the introduction of the whipping post into the state of New York, to be used especially in the punishment of those who are cruel to children. Dr. Hendricks, a Catholic priest, spoke in the same line.

Endorsed by Two Parties.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—At the county convention of the New York state Democracy last night, John W. Goff was endorsed as a candidate for mayor. His name was presented by ex-Mayor Grace. Mr. Goff was also nominated for mayor at the meeting last night of the German-American Reform union.

The Tennessee Vets.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Oct. 4.—At the first regular session of the Army of the Tennessee, General Dodge presided. Following General Dodge's remarks, General Howard addressed the meeting. The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were read, and the convention soon afterward adjourned.

Georgia's State Election.

ATLANTA, Oct. 4.—The Populists will probably increase their vote over that of two years ago. Atkinson, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, is being badly scratched in some localities by Confederate veterans, but the state is carried by Democrats by reduced majorities.

Gove For Congress.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—Jesse M. Gove, the original Blaine man, was yesterday nominated for congress by acclamation by the delegates to the Ninth district Republican convention, which was held in the headquarters of the Republican city committee.

Died of Typhoid Fever.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 4.—Drs. Reynolds and Drexel yesterday performed an autopsy on Chester Peck of Newton, the last of that family to die. No trace of poison was found, and the cause of death was ascertained to be typhoid fever.

President's Fall Is Predicted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—News from Area, Venezuela, announces that that town and Caro are beseiged by revolutionists. President Crespo is preparing for a flight to Europe, where his family has already gone.

Saved the Cargo.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—During a gale the lobster smack Edith M. Thompson was driven ashore on Ragged island. Her crew got off safely and saved the cargo of 2500 lobsters, but the craft went to pieces.

MANY WRECKS

Mark the Path of the Great Cyclone

THAT SWEPT THROUGH LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

Six Persons Killed and $1,000,000 Worth of Property Lost.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 4.—Tuesday evening's cyclone grows in destructiveness as the details are gathered, and the sum total of the damage wrought by the wreck is yet untold. The day had been hot and sultry, and its culmination was the storm which wrecked business houses, filled the streets with debris, killed many and injured others.

The first intimation of the impending catastrophe was when the cyclone struck. All electric lights were extinguished, and the darkened streets were filled with flying roofs, walls and debris of all kinds. It swept up from the southwest, striking the city near the insane asylum, the mad ward of which was demolished. There Dr. Ingate was killed and several inmates seriously injured.

It then passed on to the penitentiary, a portion of which was wrecked. A convict was killed and several guards were injured. The terrible work continued toward the main part of the city, and its path was strewn with debris of wrecked buildings, tangled telegraph and telephone wires and fallen trees that had withstood the tempests of many decades. Many residences were more or less damaged, roofs blown away and walls partly demolished.

Great Damage to Buildings.

The next marked damage was when the storm struck the Martin building, occupied by the Arkansas Methodist church and several lawyers' offices. From that point east the scene that met the view of the vast throngs of people who gathered at the scene yesterday was beyond description. Some of the most substantial brick structures of the district were razed to the ground.

The wind was followed by a drenching downpour of rain, lasting for nearly an hour and keeping nearly everyone within doors, so that the real extent of the damage could not be ascertained at the time. Telephone wires in the business portion were all blown down, and communication by that means was impossible.

As soon as the rain had ceased somewhat, the darkened and debris filled streets were crowded with the excited populace, who picked their way about with a desire to lend assistance where it was needed. It is a matter of common wonder that hundreds were not killed, for no storm in the history of the country surpasses it in destructive powers.

The police were on the scene with an increased force, and everything was done to restrain the disorderly element from creating a disturbance. The saloons that were not destroyed were ordered closed at midnight. The patrol wagon was pressed into service and many of the injured were taken to headquarters, where their wounds were attended to.

Wires Blown Down In All Directions.

The storm did not last more than three minutes. The wires operating the fire alarm system were all blown down, and there was constant fear of fire, but fortunately none occurred. Such a disaster has not visited Little Rock in its history.

The losses will aggregate nearly $1,000,000. The damage at the state insane asylum is $200,000. Beside Dr. Ingate, assistant superintendent, who was killed beneath falling walls, three attendants and two patients are missing. It is believed they were buried under the walls.

The state penitentiary sustained a loss of $10,000. A convict named Jaines was killed and several others injured. Jackson Boyd and a 3-year-old child were crushed to death in their home by a falling wall. When taken from the ruins the child was clasped in its father's arms. Both were dead. Everything is confusion and it is impossible to give losses in detail. Six persons are known to have been killed and others are missing, probably buried in the debris.

Offices Filled by Clergymen.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—The Maine Baptist Educational Society elected the following officers: Rev. D. H. S. Burrage, president; Rev. J. H. Barrows, vice president; Rev. C. E. Owen, secretary; Rev. W. H. Spencer, treasurer; Professor E. W. Hall, auditor. The proposition to form a Young People's union was voted down.

Woodbury Had a Big Lead.

RUTLAND, Vt., Oct. 4.—The following is the result of the official canvass of votes for governor presented at the opening of the legislature: Woodbury, Republican, 42,056; Smith, Democrat, 18,142; Whitman, Prohibitionist, 494; McGinnis, Populist, 739. Woodbury's plurality, 29,514; Woodbury's majority, 28,311.

Paid Two Dividends.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 4.—At the annual meeting of the Stark Manufacturing company the old board of officers was re-elected. The treasurer's report showed the total product for the year to be 11,115,000 pounds. Two dividends of 2 and 4 per cent were paid.

Coming In November.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The name of the new Austrian minister to the United States is Mr. von Hengelmuller. He will reach here early in November, at which time the present minister, Chevalier de Tavera, leaves for his new post in Brazil.

Rebate Vouchers Abolished.

PEORIA, Ills., Oct. 4.—The Whisky trust directors have decided to abolish the rebate vouchers system, the new order of things to take effect today. The directors are still in session and important developments are expected.

KEEGAN ARRESTED.

Suspected by Police of Being the Murderer of Mrs. Chambers.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 4.—Lawrence A. Keegan has been placed under arrest, charged with the murder of Mrs. Emily Chambers in Scituate on Thursday last. He was taken into custody at his home, 62 Dexter street, about noon yesterday. He was turned over to High Sheriff White in the afternoon.

Keegan is careworn, and although he has held up well under the strain of evidence that points strongly to him, there is now but the faintest doubt but that he knows more about Mrs. Emily Catherine Chambers, the murdered woman, than he desires to divulge. He denies having seen the woman since early in September, when she asked him to sign pension documents for her.

It is a positive fact that he has seen her since. He has been with the murdered woman no less than three times within two weeks. Two women and one man have seen Keegan in Mrs. Chambers' company since early in September. The evidence is tightening around Keegan in an alarming manner.

Keegan will plead not guilty, and will attempt to prove an alibi. An effort was made last night to persuade Keegan to make a confession, but he persisted in his denial of guilt. He says he never was in Scituate and does not know the roads in that section. He claims to have been drunk on Wednesday and Thursday; that he can prove that he was in local saloons all the afternoon; that he went to supper and retired between 1 and 1:30 o'clock.

Although he has contradicted himself in minor details, he persists in general points and refuses to make any other statement.

Keegan is well known in town as a genteel loafer and has been sober only occasionally in the past 10 years.

Police Captured a Prize.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—Sergeant Brickley ended a long chase last night by landing in the station house C. D. N. Jones and Lawrence G. Skaneke, charged with the long and successful operation of a first-class policy shop and lottery place at 179 Washington street. They have carried on the business of the Empire State Lottery company, of the Guarantee Loan and Trust company and the Bankers' Mutual company, all of which are alleged to be fake concerns. A basketful of lottery tickets and all the office paraphernalia were seized.

Will Try Once More.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 4.—Another attempt is to be made to end the great textile strike here. The state board of arbitration will convene, and representatives of both manufacturers and strikers will again face each other in a last effort to settle by harmonious action the great controversy. The basis of settlement will be, if at all, a compromise.

Struck by an Electric.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 4.—While on the way to the races, Dudley Miller of the Syracuse Post was knocked from an electric car by one passing in the opposite direction and was probably fatally injured.

Went to the Bottom.

TAXES.

Collector's Notice.

TAX LIST FOR 1894,

With instructions to collect in the manner prescribed by the Statutes of the Commonwealth and the Ordinances of the City of Lowell, the sums assessed by them in the persons named therein, and he is now ready to receive payment of said Taxes at his office in City Hall.

When a Poll Tax only is assessed, the Tax is due, and if not paid forthwith, the Collector will proceed to collect the Tax as directed by the General Statutes.

SUMMONS, bearing costs, will be issued against delinquent Poll and Personal Tax Payers on or about November 1st.

INTEREST at the rate of seven per cent. per annum will be charged upon all Taxes which remain unpaid October 20, 1894 until the same shall be paid; and such Interest shall be added to and considered a part of said Taxes. Poll Taxes are assessed on every male inhabitant above the age of 20 years. On undivided real estate each heir is liable for the whole tax. An error in the name of the person taxed does not defeat the collection of the Tax. Each partner is liable for the whole Tax assessed under the partnership name.

The assessors are now distributing Tax Bills. If any ratable inhabitant, by removing his residence since the first day of May, or from any cause, should not receive his Tax Bill, he must consider the Tax demanded by this notice, and a new bill will be made out on application at the office of the City Treasurer and Collector of Taxes if a Tax has been assessed.

All who preserve their Tax Bills and bring them when they come to pay, will save the time of making a new bill and facilitate the business of the office.

THE RATE OF TAXATION FOR 1894 IS $17.40 ON $1000.

Office Hours: From 9 o'clock a.m. to 3 p.m.

For the convenience of the Tax paying public the office of the Collector will be open in the evening as follows: Mondays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, from Oct. 1 to Oct. 13, inclusive, 7 to 8 o'clock p. m. Mondays, Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, from Oct. 15 to Oct. 20, inclusive, from 7 to 9 o'clock p. m.

☞ Look for your Tax Bill at your place of residence May 1st, 1894, and bring it with you.

LOCAL NEWS.

Be joyful and smoke Tower's corner.

Congressman Stevens is reported as seriously ill at his home in Andover.

Mr. Robert McConnell, managing editor of the Halifax Chronicle is visiting in Lowell.

The alarm from box 16 was for a trifling blaze last night, at Stearns' laundry, Lawrence street.

A delegation of Lowell Red Men will go to Lynn tomorrow to join in the big parade of the order.

The famous Jubilee band of the Salvation Army will be heard in Lowell October 6 and 7. Hallelujah!

The street committee has voted in favor of macadamizing Kinsman street and laying edgestones on May street.

The Y.W.C.A. outing club will give a trolley party to Chelmsford and return, and to North Billerica and return on Saturday at 2.30 p. m.

The residents of Eighteenth street presented a strong case for a sewer on that street before Alderman Bagley of the sewer committee last night.

The musicale to take place at Odd Fellow's hall next Wednesday evening will be a fine treat. It will be complimentary to Mr. C. W. Johnson, and the price of tickets is placed at 25 cents.

Miss Maud McRae of Morning Star lodge, Juvenile Templars of this city, won a gold medal for proficiency in elocution at the Massachusetts Juvenile Templars' institute at West Newton last Saturday.

Past Grand Knights Thomas Lee and Robert J. Thomas attended a meeting of the state executive council, Knights of Columbus, in Boston, Monday night, and arrangements were made for a theatre party, Oct. 12.

The Ippos have elected these officers: President, W. T. Whittaker; vice president, A. H. Bagshaw; secretary, J. H. Shepard; treasurer, Fred Hallas. It was voted to hold the annual ball Christmas eve, in Wells' hall.

Middlesex Safe Deposit and Trust Co.

The banking rooms of the Middlesex Safe Deposit and Trust Co. are completed and will be open for public inspection until Saturday night, the 13th of October. The bank will open for business on Monday morning, October 15. W. M. SAWYER, Treasurer.

Big Down Town Club.

The new move in the M. M. A. means a down town club house under the care of the Vesper club and the formation of the strongest club in the city, with a membership of 500. The old building on Dutton street will probably be turned into a big club house.

'Twas Ever Thus.

A well known carpet layer, whose principal stock in trade consists of a stretcher, hammer and scissors, says that he, like other tradesmen, loses, in the course of the year, several sets of tools; further, he adds that he suffers his greatest loss while working in churches.

Victory After a Long Fight.

After four years of steady petitioning the street committee has recommended the petition of residents of Centralville beyond Thirteenth street for a sidewalk on the easterly side of Bridge street, from Thirteenth to Eighteenth streets. The chief opponent to the improvement has been Dan Gage who has charge of much land abutting the street.

Caledonian Club Election.

The election in the local lodge of Caledonians resulted as follows: Chief, J. S. Hastings; 1st chieftain, George Gordon; 2d chieftain, J. W. Greger; 3d chieftain, George Hall; 4th chieftain, Andrew Mowatt; chaplain, Rev. Robert Court; auditors, Messrs. Moir, Stratton and Anderson; directors, A. Livingston, George Carter, J. Pettigrew, George Gordon, J. W. Stratton; pipers, Andrew Murray and James Frazer; standard bearers, James Pettigrew. A resolution of condolence with the chaplain, Rev. MRS. PARAN STEVENS.

Knows the Art of Free Advertising in the Social Circle.

Mrs. Paran Stevens still continues to create a stir. Besides entertaining a party of European nobility, she had trouble with a tradesman. Judge Baker has decided that the entering of judgment against Mrs. Paran Stevens last week was an error, and he has revoked it and replaced the case on the docket. A tradesman sued her for about $10. Her lawyer was engaged on the Hamilton divorce suit and he was not aware that the case was to be called. Mrs. Stevens claims that she did not know that she owed the man, and that he had not sent the bill, hence she was in ignorance of her indebtedness.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Stevens called at the tradesman's store and a stormy scene ensued. Crowds gathered, and Newport was treated to another painful sensation.

DEATH'S CRUEL BLOW.

It Robbed a Young Man of His Mother Even While His First Care Was for Her Comfort.

A sad incident happened just previous to the performance of "Wang" Monday night. One of the male members of the company while eating his supper at the Farragut house, received the telegram. He opened the envelope, and while reading it was seen by those nearby to turn deathly pale.

They inquired the trouble, but he was unable to answer. He handed them the telegram and they read the words that told him his mother had died that day. Those who were present say the sight was a pitiable one.

The young man went to his room, sat down, unable to say or do anything. Finally one of his friends tried to console him, and wrote a message home.

Only that evening the young man had written to his mother, and the letter was yet in his pocket; he had not had time to mail it. The letter contained the greater portion of his salary for last week, and he was sending it home.

Shook Hands With Schoolmates.

Capt. Joseph Sladen, all the way from Portland, Oregon, and full of reminiscences dropped in on Post 42, G. A. R., last evening, and spent the evening with the comrades. Capt. Sladen is a Lowell boy and enlisted with the 33rd with Capt. J. P. Thompson. He was a member of the staff of Gen. O. O. Howard.

He was also a schoolmate of Past Commander J. D. S. Baldwin.

Tribute to the Late James Dempsey.

Editor LOWELL SUN:

Dear Sir—Noticing in Tuesday's issue of THE SUN the item of the death of Mr. James Dempsey of Pawtucket, R. I., I desire to say Mr. Dempsey had been in attendance at the meetings of the N. E. Cotton Manufacturers' Association held last week at the Crawford house. At these meetings he took a very active part and gave to the members many interesting facts concerning his very large and varied experiences in his special branch of manufacturing.

His sudden death comes as a great shock to us who were so recently in his company and will be severely felt in his absence at our future meetings.

Mr. Dempsey was a great friend of and a constant attendant at the meetings of the association and a man most highly esteemed by its members.

E. W. THOMAS.

TAME SENATORIAL COEVENTION OF THE REPUBLICANL.

He Was Given Credit of Bringing the Normal School Here While Hon. Francis Jewett Boomed the Other Candidate.

Ether S. Foss is the man who will be licked by Hon. Peter J. Brady this fall.

Ether was nominated last night in the tamest convention ever held.

There wasn't even any enthusiasm to speak of, manifested towards the candidates.

Everyone seemed afraid to get up and make a motion.

Perhaps they were all afraid of incurring the displeasure of the A. P. A., and Simon B. Harris.

Walter Coburn was the only man with any lip to him; he made all the motions.

Simon B. flushed with the victory of Tuesday's convention found his way to the entrance of Huntington hall, long before the time of opening the door.

He was one of the first to gain entrance to the improperly heated hall, and during the half hour preceding the calling of the senatorial convention, his voice could be heard way above the din of conversation as he hustled here and there getting in his work.

Jackson hall boasts of two stoves and a range. They were in the hall last night but they might as well have been in the river for all the heat they gave out.

Before eight o'clock Larkin Trull, he of the oily tongue and quiet ways, came in and held a consultation with Janitor Brousseau who was speaking of his prospects for an aldermanic nomination with Chairman Kileski of the republican residue of the city committee.

About 8 o'clock all the delegates were in the hall and the odor of more or less fragrant cigar smoke permeated the atmosphere.

Mr. Foss was on hand almost as early as Simon B., but he was much less active than the monstrous convention dictator.

Called to Order.

A. G. Thompson called to order after eight o'clock. All the preliminary business was of a cut and dried nature.

Col. A. M. Chadwick was made temporary chairman as per slate, and George A. Roper, secretary, though he was not a member of the convention. Alderman Westall was then nominated but he was not a member of the convention.

Finally Ed Conant nominated A. G. Swapp and Andrew took his corner.

The committee on credentials appointed consisted of Albert Bixbie, Ward 1; John W. Stewart, Ward 2; S. W. Fletcher, Ward 3; Hon. Francis Jewett, Ward 4; Walter Coburn, Ward 5; Frank Hobbs, Ward 6.

It was voted on motion of Peter Cuddell of Caledonian picnic fame, to allow the delegations to fill their own vacancies.

The committee on credentials reported 52 delegates, a full convention.

The temporary organization was then made permanent.

The Nomination Speeches(?)

Chairman Chadwick then called for nominations for senator.

Hon. Francis Jewett spoke of a fine republican workingman who had always hustled for the party's success.

The speaker dwelt at length upon this man's oratorical abilities, and concluded by placing in nomination the name of Alonzo G. Walsh.

Larkin T. Trull then walked to the front of the hall and spoke on the needlessness of long speeches and nominated Ether S. Foss.

Of the applause which followed the mention of the names, the greater amount was bestowed on Foss.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Trull said that Foss did most of the work of getting the normal school here. (Is it here?)

No one seemed to want to second either nomination and Walter Coburn moved to proceed to ballot.

The committee to juggle ballots were Mr. Coburn, Ed. Conant, D. H. Varnum and Chas. Stickney.

Foss On One Ballot.

The balloting resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes cast	52
Necessary for a choice	27
A. G. Walsh	23
E. S. Foss	29

At this, first there was a little enthusiasm shown.

On motion of Hon. Francis Jewett the nomination of Mr. Foss was made unanimous.

A committee was appointed to hunt up Foss and bring him to the platform and Walter Coburn was then elected a member of the state central committee.

When Foss took the platform he was greeted with applause.

He thanked the convention.

Adjourned.

DECIDES TO MEET FITZSIMMONS IN A GLOVE FIGHT.

Nelson Is Out of His Class—He is Beaten By Directum in Three Straight Heats.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—William A. Brady, Corbett's manager, has telegraphed the New York Herald to transfer the $1000 posted there in behalf of O'Donnell in Corbett's name, to go with $9000 which was posted this morning with David W. Blanchard of Boston, making the $10,000 which Fitzsimmons' backers will be expected to cover. Brady also telegraphed The Herald that Corbett would meet Fitzsimmons in New York city on Oct. 1: to arrange details. Brady said that if any one else covers the $10,000, Corbett would meet them. A dispatch from the Olympic club last night, containing the resolutions, passed by the club declaring the championship forfeited to Fitzsimmons, was replied to by Corbett as follows: "Your resolutions received. Cheer up and be merry; there's only one bite to a cherry."

A fight looks probable now. Where and when, is the problem that will be discussed. Corbett does not want to accept the Olympic club's offer right off quick, as another offer may be made. Corbett was playing at Hartford last night.

Fitzsimmons Is Tickled.

DERBY, Conn., Oct. 4.—Bob Fitzsimmons received a telegram from the New York Herald last night, stating that Corbett had covered the money at The Herald office. Fitzsimmons was about as much pleased at the news as a boy with his first pair of pants. He said he would meet Corbett at The Herald office on Oct. 11 to sign an agreement and would do all he could to force Corbett into signing. He says he is willing to make any reasonable sacrifice to bring on the fight. He prefers fighting before the Olympic club, but will fight anywhere, for any sum and under almost any conditions.

THE TEMPLE CUP

Must Be Played For Under Old Agreement or Not at All.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The Baltimore and New York Baseball clubs will play for the Temple cup according to the rules and regulations prepared by the committee appointed by the league last spring, or they will not play at all.

Such is the decision of Secretary Young of the League, after receiving a letter from C. H. Byrne. Young decided that as the National League had given him and Byrne full authority to provide the regulations governing a contest for the Temple cup, that the regulations made must stand, and that the agreement made by Captains Hanlon and Ward to divide the receipts equally was in conflict with their regulations, and any game played under the agreement would be simply exhibition games and not for the cup. The captains of the two teams will simply be forced to agree to the 65 and 35 percentage arrangement.

Manager Hanlon was asked at Baltimore whether he would play for the Temple cup on the basis of 65 per cent of the receipts to the winners.

"You may say," said Manager Hanlon, "that the Baltimore players positively refuse to play the series except on the divide plan agreed between Mr. Ward and myself."

"Do you really mean, Mr. Hanlon, that if the New Yorks refuse to play except on the share alike plan that the games will not be played?"

"I most emphatically do," he replied.

Black Beauty Wins the Three Heats In the Race With Nelson.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—Maine's stallion has found his Waterloo. The greatest race ever trotted in Maine drew a small crowd to Rigby track to see the contest between Directum and Nelson. Hickok drove Directum. Hod Nelson drove the Maine horse and drew the pole.

After scoring three times the pair were given a splendid start. Nelson drove wide in the first quarter and carried Directum well out. The Maine horse set the pace and led by a full length to three-quarters. Then the black stallion came to the front and passed beneath the wire under the whip with Nelson a length behind. Time, 2:10.

Directum got the lead in the second heat, but was pushed hard all the way around, Nelson leading on the backstretch. On the homestretch Nelson fell back to Directum's haunches and finished there, both horses going under the wire beneath the whip. Time, 2:12¼.

The third heat was Directum's from the start. Hickok pushed him hard and left the Maine stallion far in the rear. At three-quarters Nelson gave up the race and trotted under the wire far behind.

Directum made the quarter in 32¾, half in 1:04¼, three-quarters in 1:36½, mile in 2:08¼, lowering the New England racing track record almost 2 seconds.

Smith Won on a Foul.

DENVER, Oct. 4.—About 250 sporting men saw the mill between Denver Ed Smith and Lawrence Farrell for a purse of $5000 in a ring pitched on the open prairie, in the same spot where Smith defeated Farrell eight years ago. Smith weighed 134 pounds and Farrell 171 pounds. Farrell fouled several times, and in the seventh round Referee Gallagher gave the fight to Smith on a bad foul. This is Smith's first fight since he whipped Goddard.

Fitz's Successor.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—John E. Dempsey has written to the sporting editor of The Daily Item: "Judging from the tone of Mr. Fitzsimmons' letter in the morning papers, I take it for granted that he has relinquished the title of middleweight champion. If this be so, I hold myself ready to defend that title. I will meet any man in the world at 154 pounds, and as a token of good faith, I deposit in your hands the enclosed check for $500."

Bolingbroke Club's Offer.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Bolingbroke club, expressing through the Sporting Life its astonishment at Corbett's peculiar notions, offers a purse of £3000 for a match between Jackson and Fitzsimmons, £100 to be allowed to each for expenses.

An Unprofitable Season.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 4.—The stockholders of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company elected the old board of officers. The past year has been an unprofitable one for the company. The product for the year ending May, 1894, was 87,037,030 yards; sales, 74,174,431 yards.

Debate Won't Come Off.

OMAHA, Oct. 4.—The state Republican central committee has refused a political debate between Governor McKinley and Congressman Bryan, declaring that the Ohio statesman's presence in the west is for a specific purpose. Bryan challenged McKinley.

A Benevolent Woman's Will.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 4.—The will of Lucinda P. Hough leaves $4000 to churches in East Longmeadow, bequeathes $1000 each to the American Seamen's Friend society, the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Missionary society and the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission society.

Doing Is Out Again.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Charles Doing, who was a jail guard 10 years ago, and who permitted Captain Howgate to escape, was reappointed to his old position just after Howgate's recapture in New York. The judges of the district court conferred with Jail Warden Leonard yesterday, and as a result Doing was relieved from duty.

A Creditable Performance.

Robbers Killed Nine Persons.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 4.—A rich farmer resided in the town of Glbanlszkl with his wife, three children and four servants. The farmer was believed to have kept a considerable sum of money in the house, and a gang of robbers attacked the residence, killed the farmer, his wife, children and servants, completely looted the house and escaped.
